Questions on It.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Senator James Couzens (Rep.), Michigan today made public letters that recently passed between himself and Attorney-General William D.
Mitchell, in which a question was asked concerning the propriety of the attorney-general's official consultation with the Department of Justice, and the correspondence out gave the correspondence out by Mitchell's failure to reply to any series of pointed questions which the Senator had put to him.
Couzens charged, in substance, that the government had been deceived of a possible $1,130,000 in income by the failure of the Department of Justice to press a tax suit against the estate of the late James J. Hill, for whom Mitchell was attorney before his entry into the Department of Justice. The correspondence shows that when Couzens wrote Mitchell asking for an explanation, the Attorney-General curtly declined to reply.

Tax of $1,130,000 Involved.

Mrs. Hill was the widow of James J. Hill, famous pioneer railroad builder. In 1919 she drew up a trust in which she transferred $1,130,000 of her fortune to relatives. Mitchell, then in private law office in St. Paul, was her legal counsel in the matter. Less than two years later, Mrs. Hill died at the age of 75. The Treasury Department contending that the gifts had been in contemplation of death, levied a tax of $1,130,000 on the estate.

It was disclosed that Mrs. Hill suffered from a serious illness prior to the creation of the trusts, and remained an invalid until her death. Moreover, the Treasury observed that although Mrs. Hill made under oath, declaring that she was in apprehension of death when the trusts were made,
the law provides that gifts made in contemplation of death shall be presumed to have been made for the purpose of evading estate taxes, and shall be assessed under the estate tax.

Case Dropped by Sargent.

The beneficiaries of the trusts asked the case to be taken to the Federal District Court at St. Paul, but the court upheld the Treasury.
An appeal was taken to the United States District Court at St. Paul, and the case was taken to the Supreme Court. Mitchell had entered the Department of Justice by appointment of President Coolidge.

For reasons which have not been explained, although Couzens asked Mitchell to explain them, the Government offered no oral argument before the court. Mitchell asked the court to take the case under advisement, and the court refused to do so. Mitchell's argument was that the Treasury Department was acting in bad faith, and that the case should be taken to the Supreme Court.

United States District Attorney
Frank J. Smith, at St. Paul, and General Counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, immediately requested that the case be taken to the Supreme Court. Couzens asked that an appeal be taken to the Supreme Court, signed by the then Attorney-General, John G.
Sargent.

Senator Couzens' attention was called to the matter during the last session of Congress by Senator Schall (Rep.), Minnesota, whose office had refused to approve.
Sinking the charges, Couzens asked the official of the Treasury to prepare a report on the facts. Something that the case be dropped.

FLYER DANGLES IN AIR WHEN PARACHUTE CATCHES; RESCUED

Knife Lowered to Him by Aviator on Plane Wing, He Cuts Self Loose After 45 Minutes.

By the Associated Press.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 5.—Private Harold I. Osborne of the Twenty-seventh Pursuit Group, Selfridge Field, Mich., dangled in mid-air for 45 minutes today when his parachute caught on the tail of the plane from which he had jumped.

He was able to save himself when a knife was lowered to him by Lieut. A. A. Stauber, who crawled out on the wing of an other plane. Osborne cut himself loose and dropped safely with his emergency parachute.

The flyer was making his graduation jump as a member of the parachute rigging class of the Air Force Technical School at Chanute field.

The plane from which he jumped was piloted by Lieut. C. H. Der-wister. He had dropped about 25 feet when his parachute caught.

Lieut. Howard Engler, piloting the other plane, saw the predicament, and carefully guided his other plane. Osborne cut himself loose over the parachute jumper so his fellow officer could lower the knife on a string.

FOR HEARINGS ON PLAN TO SELL ARENA TO CITY

Alderman Schwartz Asks for Appointment of Committee of Five.

A resolution providing for appointment of a committee of five members to investigate the advisability of the suggested purchase by the city of the Arena was introduced today by Alderman Schwartz of the Twentieth Ward.

The committee would be authorized to hold public meetings and subpoena witnesses and records and the general public is urged by the resolution to appear before it.

The resolution was referred to the Resolutions Committee although Schwartz moved that the rules be suspended and an immediate vote taken. The motion, which would have removed the requirement that a resolution be introduced five days before a vote is taken, lost by a vote of 16 to 12.

Alderman Waldman, Twenty-eighth Ward, said he had prepared a similar resolution several weeks ago, but had been dissuaded from offering it by President Neun.

Neun said he told Waldman the city had no funds for the purchase and that a resolution of the sort would "mean nothing." Schwartz said the building was an indispensable civic asset.

Mayor Mer, in France with the delegation of American Mayors, declined recently to comment on his suggestion that the city buy the Arena. He was asked by a Post-Dispatch correspondent in Paris if the suggestion originated with him or was taken to him by someone else. The Mayor's recommendation was forwarded by mail to the Chamber of Commerce and Progress Council from New York, the night before he sailed.

SPORTSMAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN APARTMENT

Automatic Shotgun With One Shell Fired, Cleaning Apparatus Beside Body of William L. Grace

DISCOVERY MADE BY JANITOR

2-Year-Old Bachelor Resided at 4924 Buckingham Court—Well-Known as Quail Hunter.

William L. Grace, widely-known quail hunter, was found shot to death in his apartment at 4924 Buckingham Court, shortly after noon today.

A repeating shotgun containing one discharged shell, a duplicate barrel, a cleaning rod and a bundle of rags lay aside the body. Apparently he had been dead for two or three days.

Grace, a bachelor, had no occupation other than his hunting and the care of real estate which he owned. Each year when the quail season opened Nov. 10, he left for the hills and seldom returned until the following January, when the season ended.

Until recently he kept several dogs in the apartment, but with the approach of summer, sent them to the country.

The body was found by Joseph R. Sanger, the janitor, who opened the door of Grace's apartment, No. 107, to place a package of laundry inside. Grace was partly dressed, wearing a pair of trousers but shirtless. He had been shot through the heart. The weapon a 12-gauge Remington automatic, was one he frequently used for hunting.

Walls of the apartment were covered with pictures of Grace's dogs and bags of birds he shot.

A brother, Thomas M. Grace, president of the Grace Realty Co., 108 North Eighth street, who was summoned by police, said William Grace was in the real estate office Tuesday, making arrangements for a trip to California. "We tried to reach him Wednesday and Thursday," Grace said, "but there was no answer at his apartment. We were not concerned, because we thought he had left for the West."

Four other brothers and two sisters survive. They are Leo M. and Paul R. associated in the sign business; Oliver J., president of the Consolidated Lamp Co.; Bernard E., of St. Francisco; Mrs. William J. Miller of St. Louis County and Miss Dorothy M. Grace, who is in Europe.

MRS. STILLMAN OBTAINS DIVORCE; REPORTED REWED

City Bank of New York, declared he was the father of four children by Mrs. Stillman, and included $50,000 in his will.

The other children are Anne Davison, wife of Henry P. Davison of New York; James, 26, who married the daughter of a Three Rivers, Que., lumberjack, and Alexander, 24.

The decree listed Mrs. Stillman's claim that Stillman had been unfaithful to her during a visit to Havana in 1926. She declared in her bill of particulars upon which the interlocutory decree was granted that she knew the names of the women with whom she said her husband had affairs, but the final decree recorded that she said she did not know them.

The court record showed that a hearing was held before Justice Merchauser Feb. 21 and the interlocutory decree granted March 2. The hearing and the Justice's action were held out of the court files and only became public today when the final decree became known.

The Stillmans were married Jan. 1904. Mrs. Stillman, the daughter of Bishop Henry Goodman Potter, was an outstanding social figure.

The Poughkeepsie action is the first public indication that the Stillmans' reconciliation was unsuccessful.

After their domestic difficulties had been made public by five years in the courts, the Stillmans were reconciled in February, 1926, and sailed aboard the Olympic for Europe on a "second honeymoon."

Public Safety Committee Going East to Study Smoke Abatement and Building Codes.

Over the protest of Alderman Wiehe of the Fifth Ward, who objected that some committee gets a free trip from the city each year, the Board of Aldermen today adopted a resolution to send the Public Safety Committee on a tour of Eastern cities to study building codes and smoke abatement. The vote was 21 to 7.

Accompanying the committee of seven, headed by Alderman Kralmann, who introduced the resolution, will be Director of Public Safety Steininger, Building Commissioner Aegerter and Edgar S. Nicholai, clerk of the Board of Aldermen.

Among the arguments in favor of his resolution, Alderman Kralmann read a letter from Steininger urging the junket because his department is considering revision of the building code. It stated that St. Louis was being retarded by its failure to approve certain new construction materials.

"Every time we get a little money 'n' the contingent fund somebody wants to go out and have a good time at the expense of the city," Wiehe complained. "The Director of Public Safety can get all the information he wants from other cities. Junkets never have accomplished anything."

Alderman Wimer, a member of the Public Safety Committee, declared the complaint came from Alderman Wiehe with bad taste. He recalled that the objector had made a trip several years ago with an aldermanic committee which had studied garbage disposal. Wiehe replied that he was not chairman of the committee and had not recommended it. Wimer mentioned the fact that the Public Safety Committee never has taken such a trip.

Alderman Schwartz, also a member of the committee to make the trip, accused Wiehe of "making a speech on hard times and unemployment just to get your name in the papers." He said the contingent fund was created to provide such trips and that he saw no reason for not using it "so Aldermen could vote intelligently on legislation."

Still another member of the committee spoke for the resolution—Alderman Waldman. Three

Alderman Schwartz, also a member of the committee to make the trip, accused Wiehe of "making a speech on hard times and unemployment just to get your name in the papers." He said the contingent fund was created to provide such trips and that he saw no reason for not using it "so Aldermen could vote intelligently on legislation."

Public Safety Committee Going East to Study Smoke Abatement and Building Codes.

Over the protest of Alderman Wiehe of the Fifth Ward, who objected that some committee gets a free trip from the city each year, the Board of Aldermen today adopted a resolution to send the Public Safety Committee on a tour of Eastern cities to study building codes and smoke abatement. The vote was 21 to 7.

Accompanying the committee of seven, headed by Alderman Kralmann, who introduced the resolution, will be Director of Public Safety Steininger, Building Commissioner Aegerter and Edgar S. Nicholai, clerk of the Board of Aldermen.

Among the arguments in favor of his resolution, Alderman Kralmann read a letter from Steininger urging the junket because his department is considering revision of the building code. It stated that St. Louis was being retarded by its failure to approve certain new construction materials.

"Every time we get a little money 'n' the contingent fund somebody wants to go out and have a good time at the expense of the city," Wiehe complained. "The Director of Public Safety can get all the information he wants from other cities. Junkets never have accomplished anything."

Alderman Wimer, a member of the Public Safety Committee, declared the complaint came from Alderman Wiehe with bad taste. He recalled that the objector had made a trip several years ago with an aldermanic committee which had studied garbage disposal. Wiehe replied that he was not chairman of the committee and had not recommended it. Wimer mentioned the fact that the Public Safety Committee never has taken such a trip.

Alderman Schwartz, also a member of the committee to make the trip, accused Wiehe of "making a speech on hard times and unemployment just to get your name in the papers." # MADISON JUDGE SAYS GRAND JURY IS RUBBER STAMP

Bernreuter, Commenting on Failure to Report on Gambling, Says Task Is Up to Sheriff, Prosecutor

COURT CAN ONLY ADVISE, HE ASSERTS

"None of My Information More Than Week Old,"
He Replies to Charge
That "It Is Old Stuff."

Circuit Judge Bernreuter, commenting on the failure of the Madison County grand jury in its report yesterday to mention the gambling and criminal conditions in the county about which he had given specific instructions, today said the jury was "little more than a rubber stamp for the Sheriff and State's Attorney."

"The grand jury," he asserted in a written statement, "consists of 23 inexperienced men who leave their various occupations and are rather suddenly called upon to investigate a great variety of offenses scattered over an entire county."

"They are little more than a rubber stamp for the Sheriff and State's Attorney. These officers are supposed to be on the job all the year and to have their investigations and facts for the grand jury to act upon."

"I have not seen the report of the grand jury made to Judge Brown at my request. I was in the midst of a trial of a case and did not want to interrupt the proceedings to receive the report, which is a mere ministerial act."

Says He Has Done Duty.
"It really is not important what the grand jury did or failed to do during the few days they were in session. They were discharged subject to recall as soon as there is further work for them. It is all up to the State's Attorney and Sheriff whether or not the matter I referred to in the instructions will be looked after. This is where the responsibility lies. All I can do is to advise and recommend. This I have done."

Judge Bernreuter subsequently prepared an additional statement in response to the assertion of various city officials throughout Madison County, that his information on the number of gambling establishments and slot machines in their municipalities, was based on "a lot of stuff a year old."

"None of my information was more than a week old," Judge Bernreuter said. "I had several reports from Alton as to slot machines there and was waited upon by a committee from the city the evening before I gave the instructions. They verified my information."

"As soon as I gave the instructions the Chief of Police up there offered me $100 for every slot machine I could find. I presume he will be perfectly safe in making this offer for a while at least."

"All Within Their Power."
"I believe in giving the State's Attorney and Sheriff a chance. The conditions as to gambling in that county are so thoroughly entrenched that it is a big job to root it out. I am confidently trusting that my instructions will be followed. What I said was addressed to the grand jury but was really meant for the State's Attorney and Sheriff. It is all within their power."

The jury, in session at Edwardsville since May 25, reported on 25 minor criminal cases and made no mention at all of Judge Bernreuter's instructions.

Still Found in Home.

Kirkwood police and St. Louis County deputy sheriffs reported finding a still and 150 gallons of alcohol last night in the home of Harold F. Rader, 37 years old, 1037 Bernice avenue, Kirkwood. Rader was charged with the possession of liquor. He was released on $1000 bond.

AIR BOARD OK'S LAMBERT FIELD CITY TERMINAL
 Building Will Be Erected With $152,000 Taken From the $2,000,000 Bond Issue.
 The Municipal Airport Commission yesterday approved plans for a terminal building at Lambert-St. Louis Field, the municipal airport. The $152,000 required for the building will be taken from the money remaining in the $2,000,000 airport bond issue.
 An ordinance authorizing construction of the building was submitted to the Board of Public Service today, and will be sent to the Board of Aldermen before June 26, the date tentatively set for adjournment of the Board of Aldermen. No opposition to the project is anticipated, and it is expected that work will start during the summer.
 The building, to occupy a site immediately to the north of the present small administration building, on the west side of the airport, will be of Colonial architecture, two stories high and surmounted by a glass-enclosed control tower. The building will be 198 feet long and of three widths, varying from 37 to 58 feet. The exterior finish will be brick.
 Arrangement of Interior.
 The first floor will include a central waiting room, with dimensions 65 by 44 feet, two stories high. A lunchroom, kitchen, rest rooms, baggage rooms, ticket offices and space for a drug store or novelty shop will complete the first floor.
 The main dining room will be on the second floor and will open onto a large porch, where service will be offered when weather permits. Large windows will permit a view of activities on the field from the interior of the dining room. The offices of the field manager, and for commercial flying concerns using the airport will flank one side of the dining room, with seven rooms for transient flyers on the opposite side. Access to the control tower, which will be 28 by 14 feet, will be through the field manager's office.
 U. S. to Get Old Building.
 The basement will house a barber shop, first aid station, and storage and refrigerating facilities. Plans for a subway passage from the basement to the loading ramp in front of the building to protect passengers during inclement weather, were discussed, but have not been incorporated definitely in the plans. The design for the terminal was prepared under the direction of L. R. Bowen, chief engineer for buildings and bridges for the city.
 When the terminal is completed the present small administration and control building will be turned over to Government activities. The airport weather station occupies a portion of the building at present, and it is planned to increase the weather reporting facilities when the entire building is available.
 Monocoupe to be Made at Lambert Field by Ball.
 The Monocoupe, a popular light cabin airplane, will be manufactured at Lambert-St. Louis Field in the near future on completion of the purchase of the Mono-Aircraft Co., and the Lambert Engine Co. by Phil DeC. Ball, aviation enthusiast and owner of the St. Louis Browns.
 Manufacture of the Lambert engine and the Monocoupe will be conducted in a vacant factory owned by Ball, and formerly occupied by the Ryan Aircraft Co., which was moved to Detroit. The plant will require a personnel of several hundred machinists and other employees.
 Ball is buying the two concerns at a receiver's sale, the legal details of which have not been fully completed. Ball became interested in flying following Col. Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic flight, and uses a personal plane for all business and pleasure trips.
DR. JOHN HAYNES HOLMES IS BARRED FROM RUSSIA
 Friends Think Ruling Will Be Reversed Because of His Liberal Attitude.
 By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, June 5.—The Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church, yesterday announced he had been barred from Russia where he had planned to visit the latter part of this month.
 Dr. Holmes is chairman of the City Affairs Committee which preferred charges against Mayor Walker before Gov. Roosevelt. He said he was not surprised at the exclusion but has hoped the ruling would be revised, and he would be permitted to enter Russia.
 Friends of Dr. Holmes said they thought he would be welcomed to Russia as soon as his liberal attitude in international affairs is made known. They recalled that Mayor Walker, in his reply to the Governor to the charges made by the City Affairs Committee, referred to Dr. Holmes as "the individual who signs himself as chairman on the charges sent to you to have been for years a recognized leader in a group of agitators and Soviet sympathizers."

CHICAGO DEMOCRATS INDORSE SENATOR LEWIS FOR PRESIDENT

Reported to Have Held Secret Meeting; Motion Said to Have Carried Unanimously.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The Chicago Tribune says the city Democratic organization at a secret meeting last night indorsed United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis for nomination for the presidency next year.

"There shouldn't be any doubt about where we stand on the presidential race next year," Mayor Cermak is quoted as telling the various ward committeemen. "It might as well be for us even at this early date to make our position known so that it cannot be questioned."

The motion for the indorsement was carried unanimously, the Tribune says.

ALDERMEN ASK P. S. CO. TO TAKE BACK 134 MEN

Unanimously Favor One Day Off in Eight for Trolley Workers.

The Board of Aldermen, by unanimous vote, today adopted a resolution calling on the Public Service Co. to co-operate in giving its union employees one day off in eight, so that 134 extra motormen and conductors discharged last Monday may be re-employed.

The resolution, introduced by President Neun, says the 134 extra platform men were dismissed "as an alleged economy measure, notwithstanding representation to officers of the company that the organized employees are willing to take one day off in each eight-day period of service without pay, thus making it unnecessary to discharge the extra men, and involving no financial sacrifice to the company."

"Having in mind the deplorable situation as regards to unemployment now prevailing in the city," the resolution continues, "the Board of Aldermen does petition the Public Service Co. to reconsider its determination, and concur in the scheme proposed by its organized employees, if it is in a position to do so without sacrifice of service to the public and financial sacrifice to itself."

The resolution is part of a campaign being conducted by the Car Men's Union to bring about the reinstatement of the extra platform men. Appeals have been directed to the Chamber of Commerce, to other organizations and to clergymen by union leaders. The company has taken the position that the working agreement with the union provides for one day off a week and that it is up to the men to take off. The union leaders say the present system is not practical and that a rearrangement of schedules is necessary in order to make the rule effective.

A bill, which would prohibit one-man operation of double-deck busses, was introduced today by Alderman Meisinger, Tenth Ward. The bill, designed for passage as an emergency measure, would amend the present bus ordinance to require that all motor busses carrying 40 or more passengers must have crews of two men. The men are described in the bills as "a chauffeur, whose exclusive duties will be those of operating the vehicle, and a conductor, to collect fares and safely assist passengers to board and alight."

The bill, which must have two more readings before a vote is taken, follows public objection by the Bus Employees' Union to increase of one-man double-deck busses by the People's Motorbus Co.

A preliminary organization meeting of the special committee, which will arbitrate the wage dispute between the Public Service Co. and its union employees, will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Board of Public Service auditorium in City Hall. The members of the committee are former Mayor Henry W. Kiel, representing the union, Edward J. Miller, president of the St. Louis Screw & Bolt Co., the company's representative, and former Circuit Judge Harry E. Sprague, selected by Kiel and Miller.

SENATOR COUZENS ASSAILS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S ACTION

have a tendency to influence his subordinates in the Department of Justice in determining whether to appeal to the Supreme Court, unless such tendency was offset by specific instructions from the Solicitor-General himself?"

Couzens transmitted the memorandum, including the questions, to Mitchell, with the following letter:

"My dear General: There having been considerable publicity concerning the estate tax of the estate of the late James J. Hill, I asked a friend of mine to look into the matter and give me a memorandum of the facts, and to also indicate any proper questions that might be raised as to the action of the Department of Justice in the case."

"I do not know that I have any right to ask you for a response, or whether you have any disposition to reply, but in any event I thought I could only ascertain by writing you this letter and inclosing with it a memorandum, to which I have above referred. Of course, if I do not hear from you, I will assume that your conclusion is that I had no right to ask you to reply."

Mitchell's Reply.

Mitchell replied last March 23, as follows:

"My Dear Senator: I have your letter of March 21, inclosing a memorandum about the estate tax case involving the estate of the late Mrs. James J. Hill. The publicity recently given this case, to which you refer, has been due to Senator Schall, who has made recently a number of unfounded statements about me in retaliation for my attitude about one of his candidates for the judicial office."

"From the general tone of this memorandum and particularly question eight, I assume it was handed you by Senator Schall or by an individual who, I am informed, has been supplying him with material on the subject. I am not taking any notice of any of the personal attacks Senator Schall has made upon me. They do not appear to me to require any refutation on my part and I prefer not to be called on to give them any attention."

Couzens wrote a second letter April 8, in which he assured Mitchell that the memorandum had not been prepared by Schall or anyone connected with him, that it had come from a Treasury official, and that Couzens had written to obtain information, and not to "raise a personal issue." He suggested that, since the Attorney-General considered one of the questions offensive he confined himself to telling why the Government was not represented orally before the Court of Appeals, and why the case had not been appealed to the Supreme Court. Although this letter was sent nearly two months ago, Couzens said today he had received no reply.

Leaves Matter to Public.

"I was interested in the matter primarily because it illustrates the failure of the present statute to catch those who dispose of their estates in anticipation of death for the purpose of avoiding Federal taxes." He went on, "The facts in the case, aside from the question of official ethics which they raise against the present Attorney-General, indicate the need of a new gift tax to prevent evasion of estate taxes. I am informed that this is but one of many instances which have resulted in the loss to the Government of millions in revenue from the very sources that can best afford to pay it."

"Since Mr. Mitchell has not seen fit to answer even the two questions of departmental policy which I addressed to him, I have decided to let the public judge of the propriety with which the matter was handled."

Mitchell, promoted by President Hoover from Solicitor-General to Attorney-General, has been regarded as a receptive candidate for the first vacancy in the Supreme Court. The situation is the more unusual in that Couzens and Mitchell have been personal friends, and are fellow members and golfers at the ultra-exclusive Burning Tree club here.

WITNESS NOT SURE IT WAS CORN WHISKY

On That Ground Supreme Court Reverses Gentry County Conviction.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 5.—Inability of the prosecuting witness in a bone dry case to qualify as a judge of liquor, or to distinguish corn whisky from any other kind, caused Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court today to reverse the conviction of John R. McMillen of Gentryville, Gentry County, who was fined $500 on a specific charge of selling corn whisky. The case was remanded for new trial by Judge Berryman Henwood, who wrote the opinion.

Earl Warren, Gentry County farm hand, testified he bought a pint and a half of liquor from McMillen for $2.50 in October, 1927 and drank part of it.

McMillen was tried in September, 1930. When Warren was questioned as to the character of the liquor, he said he was "not sure of a judge of it; it all tastes alike to me." Under further questioning, he was unable to state whether it was corn whisky, as charged.

Under the State bone dry law manufacture, transportation, sale or giving away of "hotch, moonshine and corn whisky" is a felony, but if other kinds of liquor are involved, the offense is a misdemeanor.

Judge Henwood said that if the charge was selling corn whisky, the proof must show that the liquor sold was, in fact, corn whisky. He said the testimony of the prosecuting witness was sufficient to warrant a finding that McMillen sold intoxicating liquor (which would be a misdemeanor) but was not sufficient to warrant a finding of a sale of corn whisky. He said that, in view of the admission by the witness that he was not qualified to testify as to the character of the liquor in question, his testimony on that point had no value. The other two judges in Division No. 2 concurred.

Another bone dry case, in which Chester Privitt of Doniphan, Ripley County, was fined $200 for possession of intoxicating liquor, was reversed by Commissioner John T. Fitzsimmons, because a Justice of the Peace had issued a search warrant without requiring the prosecuting Attorney, who signed the application for a warrant, to be present and to verify the statements in it. Privitt's attorney attacked the search warrant in the trial, and moved to suppress the evidence, on the ground the warrant was illegally issued. The trial court overruled the motion. A hearing on the circumstances developed a Deputy Sheriff took an application for a warrant to search Privitt's residence to prosecuting Attorney George D. Sloan of Ripley County, who signed it.

The deputy then took the application to a Justice of the Peace, who issued the warrant when Sloan was not present, or placed under oath. The law requires that before such a warrant may be issued, the application must be verified on oath by the officer filing it. Sloan declared he "considered himself sworn" when he signed the application. Commissioner Fitzsimmons said it appeared this practice frequently was followed by prosecuting officials, but said it was not legal. He ruled the trial court was in error in not sustaining the motion to quash the search warrant and suppress the evidence. All of the judges of Division No. 2 concurred.

CITIZENS' BOND COMMITTEE O K'S PLAYGROUND PURCHASE

They Are the Present Fox Playground Stars' Baseball Park.

Appropriations to purchase two playgrounds with bond funds were approved yesterday by the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee, on recommendation of Park Commissioner Pape.

One bill provide $55,000 to buy three acres comprising the present Fox playground and an adjoining lot Ohio avenue and Victor street. The present space is leased and the remainder of the site is a lumber yard. A previous bill had proposed purchase or condemnation but the new one calls for outright purchase.

The other appropriation is $100,000 to buy Stars' Park, a baseball field at the northeast corner of Compton avenue and Market street, containing more than three acres. It is considered the best available site for a playground for Negroes, and adjoins Vashon High School, Richard Kent, a Negro, Republican City Committeeman of the Sixth Ward, owns it.

The supervisory committee also approved expenditure of $150,000 for an extension of the Wherry avenue sewer, to help develop the extreme southwestern portion of the city.

AT KREY PACKING PLANT

Blaze at 2100 Bremen Avenue Accompanied by Dense Smoke; $4000 Damages.

The explosion occurred at 9:30 o'clock in the plant's smokehouse. The resultant blaze was accompanied by dense smoke. Three alarms were turned in because of the danger to other units of the plant. Damage was estimated at $4000 by firemen. The loss is insured.

ROADHOUSE MANAGER SHOT BY FATHER-IN-LAW
 Jefferson County Man Wounded in Back When He Steps in Front of Wife.

Thomas H. Bouch, 21 years old, manager of the Black Hawk Tavern near Beck, Mo., was shot in the back twice last night by his father-in-law, Bert Johnson, owner of the roadhouse.

Bouch said he was shot when he placed himself in front of his wife as she entered the room to inquire why he and her father were quarreling. Johnson was arrested by Sheriff Clark of Jefferson County.

Accompanied by a friend, George Hegel, Mrs. Bouch brought her husband to City Hospital at 10:30 o'clock last night. Physicians think he will recover.

Bouch related to police that he had become dissatisfied with his job at the tavern and had told Johnson of his intention of leaving. This, Bouch said, provoked a storm of protest which became more violent as they continued drinking beer and discussing the subject.

Johnson left the room, returned with two pistols and shot his son-in-law as Mrs. Bouch entered. Only two shots were fired, both striking Bouch.

Johnson, in jail at Hillsboro, said he fired in self-defense after leaving the room when Bouch threatened him and returning with two pistols. He said Bouch was armed.

17-YEAR-OLD COMPLAINANT AGAINST PANTAGES ON STAND Girl Tells of Being Taken From Hollywood to Party at San Diego.

By the Associated Press.
 SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 5.—Despite defense objections, Lydia Nitto, the 17-year-old complaining witness against Alexander Pantages, wealthy show man, and others on conspiracy and morals charges, was called to the witness stand today to tell her story of the hotel party last October which brought about the trial.

Lorin Andrews, attorney for Olive Clark Day, a defendant with Pantages; Jesse H. Shreve, prominent San Diego business man, and William Jobelmann, objected to permitting Miss Nitto to testify because she had been held in technical custody for three months by the Los Angeles District Attorney's office and had not been allowed to see any one independently.

After relating that she and Helen Livingston, 17, were taken from Hollywood to San Diego by Jobelmann and Miss Day, alleged operators of a "girl market," the witness burst into tears when she told of being left alone with Pantages in his room.

She said Pantages gave her $10 and told her not to tell any one she was too young to be there.

As she left the stand for a recess, Miss Nitto fainted, but was revived.

By the Associated Press.
 CHICAGO, June 5.—Federal authorities said today that with 20 men under arrest, they had broken up "that part of the Capone syndicate which handles alcohol throughout the Middle West."

Assistant State's Attorney Daniel Anderson said simultaneous raids by Federal agents last night at Aurora, Ill., and Waterloo, Ia., brought the total number of alleged members of the ring under arrest to 20. The outfit had a combined output of between 10,000 and 15,000 gallons of alcohol a week, he said.

SAYS HE HIT DAUGHTER, 18, WITH HAMMER IN SELF DEFENSE

Norris City (Ill.) Farmer Refuses to Explain Further; Girl Found Unconscious.

NORRIS CITY, Ill., June 5.—Maud Jennings, 15-year-old daughter of Eliah Jennings, farmer, living a mile north of here, was found unconscious with severe head injuries lying near a highway by a passing motorist yesterday. Her clothes were torn. Mayor W. W. Willis, who was notified, recognized the girl and took her to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Martha Harney. Willis, after talking with the father, said Jennings told him he "struck the girl with a hammer in self-defense," but refused to give any other details.

Lawyer Escapes Jail Term. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 5.—William Scott Stewart, Chicago lawyer, escaped a three months' jail term when the Supreme Court denied the State a rehearing of the contempt case against him. Stewart was sentenced by the late Judge Comerford for alleged contempt while Stewart was representing Amante Ronetti, Chicago doctor convicted of an illegal operation.

TRAFFIC VIGILANTES REPORT 20 MOTORISTS

Committee of 100 at Work Since Wednesday; Group to Be Increased.

The Traffic Vigilante Committee of the St. Louis Safety Council, composed of 100 men and women pledged to report violations of the traffic laws, began operations Wednesday noon and have thus far reported 20 motorists, Robert E. Lee, executive secretary of the council, announced at meeting of the council's Executive Committee today.

Lee said 50 additional applications for membership on the committee, which is voluntary, are under investigation. The membership gradually will be increased, he said, until it has reached a maximum tentatively set at 500.

The initial committee consists of 95 men and five women and includes five persons who do not include motor cars. All of the women are graduates of the council's driving school for women. Lee said the membership represents a cross section of society, ranging from a retired capitalist to a laborer.

Work of the committee, he said, is to further the council's accident prevention work. "Vigilantes are not police officers," Lee said, "but their province is to report violations of the law, which is simply the plain duty of every citizen. They are not to report petty violations."

"The Council is interested only in violations which produce accidents, such as passing a stop sign, boulevard stop signs, street cars loading or unloading passengers, driving with improper head lights, or weaving in and out of traffic."

Upon receiving a report of a vigilante, whose identity is unknown to the motorist reported, the council sends the driver a letter describing his offense and beginning: "In an entirely friendly spirit we want to advise you that a responsible member of our Traffic Vigilance Committee reports..."

The offense is then cited, and the letter cautions: "If you get into careless driving habits sooner or later there will be an accident and someone will be injured or killed—you might be the victim of the killer."

After mentioning the objectives of the council, the closing paragraph announces that "records are being kept of all reports similar to this and the names of repeaters are sent to the Police Department and to the Judges of the courts handling traffic cases."

MAN, ARRESTED, SAYS HE IS SON OF SENATOR FESS. Fined $10 in New York for Disturbance in Front of Speaking.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Lowell Fess, 38-year-old sales manager who told arresting officers early today that he was the son of United States Senator Simon D. Fess of Ohio, was fined $10 today for disorderly conduct.

Fess was arrested on front of an East Fifty-second street speakeasy by a patrolman, who said he was creating a disturbance. The officer, Richard Broderick, quoted Fess as saying his father was Senator Fess, and that he would get him to "clean up this town."

The police blotter entry charged that Fess "while intoxicated did use abusive and profane language and attempted to take the officer's hat."

Broderick said Fess struck him in the chest and that he grappled with him. A chauffeur nearby picked up the officer's hat and sounded it sharply on the sidewalk, summoning another officer. The two policemen were unable to induce Fess to enter a taxicab to go to the police station, so all three finally walked.

Fess bore a cut on the nose from his affray with the patrolman. Broderick, whom he referred to as "Dick," was his particular friend. Fess told the Court, which made him unusually sorry for the occurrence.

Fess apologized for his conduct to both the Court and Patrolman Broderick and explained that he had been celebrating the arrival of a new child in his family and had gotten "too enthusiastic."

Philippine Murder Story Untrue. By the Associated Press. MANILA, June 5.—The constabulary provincial commander at Capiz denied today that Plaridel against Manuel Roxas, had killed anyone, as reported in published dispatches from Ilo Ilo Wednesday, the day after election. The report said Alvaras had shot and killed a policeman and an inspector while Roxas was standing near by and that the latter had escaped death by a narrow margin. The Ilo Ilo correspondent of the newspaper La Vanguardia advised he got the erroneous story from another candidate for office, who in turn had received it in a roundabout way.

Polkman Held for Attacking Child by the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 5.—T. R. Bryant, a policeman, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of criminally attacking an 8-year-old girl. He was held without bond for preliminary hearing June 17. Chief of Police Siegfried said Bryant, off duty at the time, admitted he was drinking but denied the charge. He is married, has three children, and was discharged from a Veterans' Hospital at Excelsior Springs, Mo., in May.

BRAZILIAN ENVOY IN ST. LOUIS

Accompanied by his wife, he was taken on a sightseeing tour by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the United States Department of Commerce. Roca, former Ambassador to Chile, arrived in St. Louis at 3:55 p. m. and left at 6:30 p. m.

NEW TRIAL FOR BANKER

State Supreme Court Reverses Conviction of Cashier.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 5.—Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court today reversed and remanded a two-year prison term given to E. F. Peer, cashier of the defunct People's Bank of Jerico Springs, Cedar County, on a charge of receiving deposits when he knew the bank was insolvent. The case was reversed because of erroneous instructions by the trial court and errors in the trial in the Vernon County Circuit Court, where the case was sent on a change of venue. The cashier's testimony that the bank was solvent, but a threatened ruin caused the closing and that Finance Department officials had no intention of closing the bank, was excluded, and the trial judge instructed the jury it was immaterial how the bank became insolvent. The bank closed March 16, 1929.

UNROMANTIC SIDE OF WAR TOLD BY VETERAN

J. Grant Frye Stresses Ugly Reality in Plea for a Lasting Peace.

Those who stayed at home got their romantic ideas of the World War from soldiers who weren't in the thick of it and therefore got back first. J. Grant Frye of Cape Girardeau, former Prosecuting Attorney and winner of the Croix de Guerre and winner of the Legion of Honor, said at yesterday's luncheon of the South St. Louis Lions Club at Mission Inn.

Frye, who spoke on "The Unromantic Side of War," at the Rotary state meeting at Chillicothe, Mo., remarked that the romance of those who were in the thick of it was "a national phenomenon."

"For a decade," he added, "my own lips were sealed, and I believe I can tell you why. What did we do? You told us to fight struggle for our land, to end all war, crush militarism, make the world safe for democracy, free oppressed peoples, create a great international system to perpetuate peace throughout the world."

"When I got back to my community in September, 1919, I wanted to say something about the war. The only things I'd thought about were those things you'd said two years earlier when we went away. For two years those dreams had been my daily bread."

UNROMANTIC SIDE OF WAR TOLD BY VETERAN

J. Grant Frye Stresses Ugly Reality in Plea for a Lasting Peace.

Those who stayed at home got their romantic ideas of the World War from soldiers who weren't in the thick of it and therefore got back first, J. Grant Frye of Cape Girardeau, former Prosecuting Attorney and winner of the Croix de Guerre and Distinguished Service Cross, said at yesterday's luncheon of the South St. Louis Lions' Club at Mission Inn.

Frye, who spoke on "The Unromantic Side of War" at the recent Rotary state meeting at Chillicothe, Mo., remarked that the essence of those who were in the thick of it was "a national phenomenon."

"For a decade," he added, "my own lips were sealed, and I believe I can tell you why. What did we struggle for? You told us to fight to end all war, crush militarism, make the world safe for democracy, free oppressed peoples, create a great international system to perpetuate peace throughout the world."

"When I got back to my community in September, 1919, I wanted to say something about the war. The only things I'd thought about were those things you'd said two years earlier when we went away. For two years those dreams had been my daily bread."

Back to Normalcy. "I tried to say something about the war, and people didn't know what I was talking about. All that high fervor was gone. You had got back to normalcy—curse that word as the expression of all the inertia of the American mind!"

"You can figure out why we didn't talk very much in that situation. A friend said, 'Glad to see you. You must have had a great time—Paris—winning everything. I'd have given a million dollars to be with you.'"

"If he'd been where we were, he'd have given a million dollars for a shovel to dig down into the earth and hide out of it—and right now he'd be given another million to purge his mind of some of the things we've been trying to forget for a decade."

"Another man asked me, 'How many Germans did you kill?' How could we talk in the face of that?" Most people talk, he remarked, was "sheer piffle," and he urged that the wordy parade of romantic "patriotism" be balanced by some of the "hideous facts" to give the coming generation "a true picture of what war is like." Mentioning that he wore "a cross of war," he urged "but remember that for every cross of war there's somewhere one wooden cross or many. That's a thing we never see. That's a thing the song-writers never mention."

He detailed at first hand costs of the war in life, property, ideals, happiness, morality and the health of children, without the necessities of diet. He was one of 16 survivors of his entire company in the 84th Marines. On July 19, 1918, he said, a shell fell in a group of his company and killed all but himself and one other, a remarkably attractive and capable man.

It split his nose and folded his face back as though hinged, he said. "He threw up both hands and fell, and for 12 years I didn't know if he were alive or dead. And then I met him and his wife at a Second Division reunion."

"He was a hideous fellow. I seized his hand and said, 'How the hell did you get such a good-looking girl with a face like that?'" She had been engaged to him when he left, and had chosen to stick with him, but I wonder what she thinks now when the parades pass, and the pharisee American orator takes the stand?

"Remember," he said, "there is no armistice for the shell-shocked. Every day for them those battles are fought again."

"I cannot believe the ideals of '17 and '18 shall die. I believe that those dreams shall some day live again as a pillar of fire, and that the United States will lead all nations into a promised land of peace."

TWO PATRONS OF BOOTLEGGERS FINED BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Jail Sentences Suspended; Court Doesn't Know Whether Buyer or Seller Is the More Guilty.

Everett Anderson and Charles Hopgood, patrons of a home-brew establishment at Leavenworth, Ill., were fined by Federal Judge Wham at East St. Louis yesterday on pleas of guilty of possession of liquor which the judge said he did not know "which is more guilty, the patron or the bootlegger."

Anderson and Hopgood were admitted to probation on jail sentences of 30 and 90 days, respectively, but will be required to pay their fines, $50 and $100. The proprietor of the establishment, Carroll Kelly, pleaded guilty Tuesday. He was sentenced to four months in jail and fined $150.

H. EUGENE CHUBBUCK DIES; FORMER M'KINLEY LINE HEAD

Organized Omaha Electrical Plant and Later Went With General Electric Co.

By the Associated Press.
PEORIA, Ill., June 5.—H. Eugene Chubbuck, whose name is associated with the development of electricity in numerous sections of the country, died yesterday at the age of 68. He had been in ill health for three years.

He was former general manager of the William B. McKinley Traction System, which included the Illinois Traction System, now part of the Illinois Terminal Railroad System. He retired as head of the traction company in 1923, but continued as executive vice president.

Born in Utica, N. Y., he became interested in electricity when a boy and at an early age became an expert for the Thompson-Hutson Co. of Boston, one of the parent groups of the present General Electric Co.

He organized the Omaha (Neb.) electrical plant and the street railway of Pueblo, Colo. Then he went with the General Electric Co., later connecting with the McKinley Public Utility properties in Quincy, Ill. He also took charge of the properties at Galesburg, Ill. He built 60 miles of electric railway in the Illinois River valley.

POLICEMAN WHO KILLED YOUTH IS CLEARED BY JURY

Former Belleville Officer
Accquitted at Second Trial
After Having Once Been Found Guilty.

Enas W. Mellon, former Belleville policeman, who fatally wounded one of a group of boys accused of peeping into a girls' dressing room a year and a half ago, was acquitted last night at his second trial on a charge of manslaughter.

The jury deliberated two and a half hours, returning its verdict after 7 o'clock. The only persons in the courtroom with the exception of the court officers, were Mellon, his wife and their three children. Mellon shook hands with the jurors and thanked them.

During the trial Circuit Judge Miller twice admonished persons in the courtroom to refrain from actions he thought might prejudice the jury. The first reprimand was to Mrs. Mellon. Her youngest son ran up one of the courtroom aisles laughing, and the judge ordered, "Take that child out of here."

Later in the proceedings he pointed at a man sitting beside Joseph J. Walther, father of the 18-year-old boy whom Mellon shot, and thundered: "I've been watching you for several minutes, sitting there shaking your head at my decisions. If you do not agree with the rulings of this court, that is a matter for yourself. On the first repetition of this offense, you will be removed from the courtroom."

The man remained quiet during the rest of his stay. Walther has been active in urging a vigorous prosecution of the slayer of his only son. Howard, and has evinced great bitterness toward the policeman.

Mellon was convicted of manslaughter, an offense punishable by a penitentiary term of from one to 14 years, last September, but was granted a new trial. At both trials he testified he was sent to the Belleville Turner Hall on complaint that a group of boys were peering into the girls' dressing room window; that the boys ran despite his shouted order to halt, and that he fired two shots into the street to frighten them into stopping.

It was the contention of his lawyers that the bullet which struck young Walther had glanced from the pavement. Mellon testified, "I didn't intend to hit any of the boys. I fired to scare them so they'd stop running. I had been told to arrest them and they were out-distancing me."

Mellon, former insurance agent, chauffeur, upholsterer and miner, had been a policeman five months when the shooting occurred, Oct. 7, 1929. He said he had never fired a pistol prior to his connection with the Police Department, and was not familiar with its operation.

MISSING MAN FOUND HANGED TO TREE WITH FISHING LINE

The body of Joe Heger, 46-year-old unemployed miner who lived near Belleville, was found hanging by a strand of heavy fishing line from a tree in a wooded section near the intersection of Carr Lane drive and Chambers road, in the northern part of St. Louis County, yesterday afternoon.

Heger, ill and despondent, had been missing from his home since Monday. He is survived by his widow and four children.

LUHRMANN MILLING CO. RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

William J. Klostermann Named; Declining Grain Prices Blamed for Collapse.

William J. Klostermann, a grain merchant, was appointed receiver of the bankrupt Luhrmann Milling and Grain Co., 101 Monroe street, by Referee in Bankruptcy Coles yesterday. The company was declared bankrupt on its own application Tuesday.

Irving F. Luhrmann, vice president, testified the company owed total assets but enumerated them as follows: $50,000 in accounts, of which he said about half were collectible; two warehouses in St. Louis and one in Jonesboro, Ark.; land in Palm Beach, Fla., which cost $13,500 five years ago; $15,000 worth of grain, of which $10,000 was pledged; machinery, furniture and other personal property.

The company's attorney, Joseph L. Simpson and R. F. Carpenter Jr., said its liabilities would exceed its assets substantially. They ascribed the company's failure to declining grain prices which caused many customers to reject shipments.

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 5.—Tommy Armour, American open champion in 1927, today won the English British open gold championship after Jose Jurado, the Argentine star, forced away a great chance for victory on the last nine. Armour's score was 296 for 72 holes. Jurado, taking 41 for the last nine, was second with 297.

Armour, known as the "Black Scot" and a veteran of some of the hardest fighting of the World War, finished with a par-cracking 71 after previous rounds of 73-75-77.

He was five strokes back of Jurado at the start of the final round and four strokes back at the end of the final nine, but where he finished in the last nine, he finished in the last nine.

Armour, the former Scotch amateur champion, succeeds Bobby Jones as the British open king, making it 10 out of the last 11 years the title has come to the United States.

The cup which Bobby Jones sent back a short time ago from Atlanta, Ga., was presented to Armour by the Earl of Arlisle, appropriately named in honor of the World War.

A dirk stuck into the top of his stocking.

Cards Show How Armour Won.

How the tide of battle turned from Jurado to Armour in the last half of the final round is shown by the cards of the one-two finishers, which follow:

Out-Par . . . 444 445 434-36
Armour . . . 354 355 434-35
Jurado . . . 444 445 434-35

In-Par . . . 444 354 345-35-72
Armour . . . 435 345 345-36-71
Jurado . . . 544 464 365-41-77

Sarazen Ties for Third.

Gene Sarazen and Percy Alliss, the British-born Merlin pro, were tied for third with 298 and Johnny Farrell, also a former American open king, and MacDonald Smith, the Carnoustie-born American, tied for fifth with 299.

Other finishers in order were: Marco Churru, Argentina, and W. H. Davis, British Ryder cup player, 300; Henry Cotton and Arthur Havers, British professionals, 302; Abe Mitchell, Horton Smith and Tommaso Genta, the Argentine open champion, 303.

This was the sixty-sixth year of the British open, the oldest major golf competition, the first open being played at Prestwick in 1860, on all but five of the succeeding 11 years.

Winter and Slattery In District Golf Final; Whitbread Defeated

By W. J. McGoogan
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

MIDLAND VALLEY COUNTRY CLUB, June 5.—Bryan O. Winter, North Hills, defeated Elliott Whitbread of Normandie, the defending champion, 5 and 4, in a semi-final match of the sixteenth annual district golf tournament here today.

Lester Slattery, Crystal Lake, will oppose Winter for the championship in the 36-hole final match tomorrow. Slattery defeated Chester O'Brien, Westborough, in their semifinal match, 5 and 7.

Winter and Slattery showed early that they were out for blood, each going to lunch four up.

Winter played steadily to gain the edge over Whitbread, whose game was very spotty. The North Hills star made a few brilliant shots, but his medal score of 74 shows just how close to perfect figures he played. Whitbread had 78 for the round.

Whitbread missed his second shot at the second hole and went into the creek, bordering the fairway on the right. He pulled out with a penalty stroke and was on the green with his next, lying four.

Winter took advantage of the break to play carefully to the green and when Whitbread missed his putt for a par 5 Winter went 3 up by getting down in two putts.

Whitbread missed a short putt for a par on the fourth and was two down when Bryan got his par.

On the short fifth Winter was on from the tee, while Whitbread had to putt for a three and was two down when Winter got his par.

Whitbread got a birdie 4 on the eleventh to be two down again but on the next hole Bryan took a lot of the fight out of Whitbread when he hit a 4-2 victory over the defending champion.

Wood Sail Tonight to Cup Mate

Two New York youngsters, one in the States in Davis Cup play, average a little more than 22 years, age. Lott and Van Ryn, although veterans of international play, are only 25.

Selection of Shields and Wood to make the trip abroad came as no particular surprise but the fact was some comment over the fact that the selection committee included Cliff Sutter of New Orleans on the squad. Sutter, who was the only match he played in Davis cup competition at Washington last week in the contest with Argentina and it had been believed the committee would send him abroad to gain valuable experience in international play.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

KIKI CUYLER, Cuba—Homer in the ninth with one out to beat Brooklyn, 6 to 4.
PEPPER MARTIN, Cardinals—His pinch single in the last of the ninth scored Adams and beat the Giants.
BILL REGAN, Pirates—Single in the thirteenth, scoring Wanner with the run that subdued the Braves.
ALVIN CROWDER, Senators—Drove seven hits scattered to defeat Detroit, 5 to 1.
GOOSE GOSLIN, Browns—Single, double and triple helped make it two straight over the Yankees.
GEORGE EARNshaw, Athletics—Held the White Sox to three hits, all singles, to score his eighth straight victory.

MILES GAINS VICTORY OVER STOLSKIN IN BOAT AT SPRINGFIELD
Johnny Miles, lightweight star of St. Louis, was credited with another victory last night when he defeated Frank Stolskin of Springfield, Ill., in a benefit bout held at Jacksonville, Ill., for the crippled children of that town.

The semifinal bout of the evening, Herbie Hahn, St. Louis welterweight, had an easy time until the second round when he slightly injured his right hand in flooring Johnny Kerwin of Decatur, twin brother of Hahn, who was able to win the decision.

Miles was fighting to even an old score. The fight was close throughout, but the experienced Miles was too clever for Stolskin and had a slight edge at the end of the bout.

Hahn started off in a flurry of lefts and rights that had Kerwin dazed at the end of the first round. In the second, Hahn connected with a right that sent Kerwin to the canvas. Another right struck Kerwin's head, sending him to the floor, and injuring Hahn's hand.

The rest of the fight was even, but the margin piled up in the final round enabled the St. Louis boy to get the decision.

GEORGE EARNshaw, Athletics—Held the White Sox to three hits, all singles, to score his eighth straight victory.

MILES GAINS VICTORY OVER STOLSKIN IN BOAT AT SPRINGFIELD
Johnny Miles, lightweight star of St. Louis, was credited with another victory last night when he defeated Frank Stolskin of Springfield, Ill., in a benefit bout held at Jacksonville, Ill., for the crippled children of that town.

The semifinal bout of the evening, Herbie Hahn, St. Louis welterweight, had an easy time until the second round when he slightly injured his right hand in flooring Johnny Kerwin of Decatur, twin brother of Hahn, who was able to win the decision.

Miles was fighting to even an old score. The fight was close throughout, but the experienced Miles was too clever for Stolskin and had a slight edge at the end of the bout.

Hahn started off in a flurry of lefts and rights that had Kerwin dazed at the end of the first round. In the second, Hahn connected with a right that sent Kerwin to the canvas. Another right struck Kerwin's head, sending him to the floor, and injuring Hahn's hand.

The rest of the fight was even, but the margin piled up in the final round enabled the St. Louis boy to get the decision.

Sport Salad Full Up.

Owing to the limitations of the Cardinals' bench Branch Rickey says they couldn't use Hack Wilson in the Redbird organization.

There was a ball player named "Hack." Who, used to be strong on attack; But he's not in the game. And some knowing ones claim That the new ball has set him way back.

Quite So.
As there isn't much of a market for $35,000-a-year bench warmers, it looks like Hack will dree his weild on the Cub bench until the old batting eye which has been A. W. O. L. checks in for active duty again.

And when it does, we take it the new ball will have all the earmarks of the old pellet after Hack swings on it. It isn't in the books for a pair of batting lamps like Hack's to do a permanent fadeout like that.

Nevertheless we still maintain that nobody ever snapped out of a batting slump sitting on the bench.

"Indiana Shade Red Sox for Eighth in Row."
The Cleveland Indians' winning streaks are equal only by their losing streaks. They seem to be going after the bacon in streaks.

But the A's are going after it in a different way, the streaks of lean being barely perceptible between the juicy streaks of fat.

Why pick on Texas Guinan and "her kang"? After all it seems that the only charge that could be brought against them would be a cover charge.

We admit that a cover charge isn't to be laughed off but it is serious enough to merit deportation.

"$744,500 In Derby Pool For Americans."
Some hat pool, we'll say. We take it everything is "jake" with the Jamaican who held a $150,000 ticket on the Derby winner.

The Brooklyn Robins have no illumnum globe but with the aid of some air tight ball and timely batting they are gradually heading for the stratosphere. You can't keep a Robin on the ground.

Will Bear Watching.
The best Clock Tower could do in the Withers was third but he made pretty good time.

The man on the sandbox says that while the Browns are not out of danger they are doing as well as could be expected.

HOME AND POULTRY HOUSE BURNED

Police Suspect Four Men Who Sawed Out of Williamson County Jail Monday Night.

By the Associated Press.
CARTERVILLE, Ill., June 5.—
The bodies of Marshall Richardson, 40 years old, a poultry raiser, and his 32-year-old wife were found late last night in the ruins of their burned home and poultry house, near here, apparently shot to death by robbers who burned the buildings to conceal the crime.

The body of Richardson was found in the burning poultry house by two passersby, Dave Buttner of Carterville and Harry Pollock of Herrin. Richardson had been shot to death. Later as the flames died down, the charred body of Mrs.
Richardson was found in the ruins of the home, a rifle lying near her.

Deputy Sheriff Abe Wingate and Joe Gualdoni of Herrin, who investigated the killings, today expressed the opinion the two were shot by robbers who then burned the buildings. Richardson, it was said, early in the week marketed a large number of chickens and took the money home with him.

The deputies said they suspected one or more of four convicts who sawed their way out of the Williamson County jail Monday night, as the robbers. Two of them were seen near the home two days ago and authorities were searching that region yesterday. William Moore, Negro, one of the convicts, was also seen near there yesterday afternoon.

Richardson was shot three times in the head and his throat was cut, leading police to believe he was attacked by more than one assailant.

The theory is that Richardson, having prowl in his chicken house, went to investigate and was slain. After killing him, the robbers killed Mrs. Richardson and set fire to the house and the poultry pen to cover their crime.

She apparently had heard the struggle between her husband and his slayers because when her body was found, two shotgun shells were clutched in her hand and a gun case containing several weapons was near by.

STANDARD OIL UNITS TO MERGE IN 60 DAYS, NEWSPAPER SAYS

New Jersey and California Companies Would Form Largest Petroleum Concern in World.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 5.—The New York Times says the proposal for consolidation of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the Standard Oil Co. of California will take definitive form in 60 days unless formidable opposition develops in Washington.

The merger was proposed about two years ago, but was abandoned upon intimation that the United States Department of Justice would withhold its approval. The newspaper says the consolidation will now be undertaken as a result of the failure of the Government to prevent the merger of the Standard Oil Co. of New York (Socony) and the Vacuum Oil Co.

It was said the proposed merger would create the largest petroleum company in the world, with total assets of more than $2,375,000,000 and controlling about a fourth of the oil business in the United States. The company would be larger than the old Standard Oil Co. dissolved by Supreme Court order in 1911 and larger than the Royal Dutch Shell organization of Europe, now the world's largest producer of crude oil, the newspaper says.

SECRETARY ADAMS COMMENTS MAN WITH SIX SONS IN NAVY

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Secretary of the Navy Adams regards the record of Samuel F. Williamson, North Tiverton, R. I., as "most unusual" and "an evidence of practical patriotism of the highest order." He said so in a letter to Williamson, who has six sons in the navy.

The six are Samuel, a chief quartermaster; John P., chief radioman; Thomas J., torpedoman, second class; William, machinist's mate, first class; Francis T., in the graduating class at the Naval Academy, and Edward J., aviation pilot, first class.

Two of the six soon will be serving ships at San Pedro, Cal.— Francis and Samuel. John is at Boston, Edward in the Canal Zone, William aboard a mine layer at Honolulu and Thomas on submarine of the Asiatic fleet.

Held for Grand Jury in Slaying.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Ill., June 5.—Although exonerated by a Coroner's jury, Miss Helen Deal, 18 years old, was held for the grand jury today by Judge Hartigan in Felony Court for the murder of Nick Colantonio, a brothel keeper, with whom she lived.

BANKER IS FOUND GUILTY

Harry V. Haynes, Washington, Convicted on 14 Counts.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Harry
V. Haynes today was convicted by a District of Columbia Supreme Court jury on 14 counts of irregularity while President of the Farmers' & Mechanics' National Bank.
The jury deliberated two hours before announcing the verdict of guilty on every count of the indictment which included charges of misapplying the bank's funds.

Haynes, a former president of the District Bankers' Association, received the verdict stoically, as did his wife and daughter, Mrs. C. H.
Young, who were with him in the courtroom. After the verdict was returned, Haynes was taken to the district jail to await sentence.

STAGE WORKERS VOTE PAY CUT

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 5.—Members of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators have voted a voluntary wage cut of $450,000, William Canavan, international president, announced yesterday.

The money is to be taken from pay envelopes of individuals during a 10-week period, he said. The reduction approximates 5 to 7 1/2 per cent reductions in individual salaries. Canavan said the action was taken to help large operators of motion picture houses through a period of financial difficulty. At the end of 10 weeks, the rate of pay is to be restored to the present level under the agreement. The cut starts next Monday.

DOCTOR HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Dr. Jesse W. Shaw, 3308 Sullivan avenue, suffered fractured ribs yesterday when his automobile collided with a truck and was knocked against a street car at Whittier street and St. Louis avenue. He is at Central Hospital.

(—and that's something no

Clothes have to take lots of punishment these hurly-burly days. We wear 'em harder—and expect 'em to last longer. Which is really no problem at all for those particular men who know how, and where, to get the most for their money.

They're buying Two Trouser Suits! They've found that in the long run there's nothing like a spare pair to put new life into even the proudest of woollens.

Naturally, most of them come to Bond—

SENATOR LEWIS TRIMS HIS BEARD AT HOME

Noted for His Chivalry, Knows
Many Languages, Likes Walking, Riding.

(Copyright, 1931.)
CHICAGO, June 5.—The most talked about beard in the United States is trimmed at home.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis has his hair cut regularly every other week, but the whiskers that once were pink are snipped by the Chesterfieldian statesman himself.

When Col. Lewis was in the Senate before, Democratic whip for President Wilson, his beard was an unusual shade of red, commonly referred to as pink. The exact color now is more nearly gray, but the whiskers, parted smartly at the chin, still single him out unmistakably in this clean shaven age.

His slouch hat at a rakish angle, a carnation in his button hole and spats gleaming from his ankles, Senator Lewis is over the smart dresser, but the stories of his lavish purchases of clothes are exaggerated.

Ties, Handkerchiefs, Socks.
Rumor has it that he buys 10 and 12 suits at a time, but the number is actually two. He does buy a good many ties, handkerchiefs and socks, and they always match.

Extreme politeness with men, gallantry with women is his never failing rule. In the campaign last fall when he defeated Ruth Hanna McCormick by more than 700,000 votes, he always referred to his opponent as "the lady" and when he found it necessary to criticize the enemy, he pointed out that he was sure "she was being led astray."

He carries his chivalry into his daily contacts, into the street, the office building, the country store.
He speaks to persons he has never seen before, stops a gang of workmen in the middle of the street to shake their hands, holds up an entire campaign party while he chats with a little farm girl.

Many of his private letters are ended: "I pray you feel free to command me for any service in my power."

Speaks Many Languages.
He was once an instructor in Latin and Greek; he speaks French and German well, and knows enough Finnish, Spanish and Swedish to greet audiences in their native tongues.

He was a Colonel in the Spanish-American War and wears a uniform now whenever occasion calls for it.

Walking and riding constitute his exercises. He walks the mile and a half from his hotel to his office whenever the weather permits. On vacations he rests, reads and rides.

His wife, Mrs. Rose Douglas Lewis, writes a society article for a Chicago newspaper every week and tells fortunes for friends and benefit bazaar. Because of the latter activity, Senator Lewis always calls her "Gypsy." When they are not together he wires her every night.

He does not dislike the nickname
"J. Ham," but thinks it too un-dignified for use in certain places.
He once made formal protest on the floor of the Senate.

He enjoys a good joke on himself and does not hesitate to tell it. He was once in a Washington hotel dining room with his wife when he found he had mislaid his spectacles. He asked the Negro waiter to read the menu to him.
"Ah'm sorry, boss," was the reply. "My education was neglected, too."

BISHOP CANNON TELLS WHY HE IS SUING CONGRESSMAN

Churchman Wants Courts to Determine Whether He Is "Shameless Violator of Law."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Bishop James Cannon Jr. said yesterday his $200,000 libel suit against Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts was filed "to determine whether I am a shameless violator of the Federal corrupt practices act."

In his suit the churchman said a statement made by Tinkham in June, 1930, charged him with violating the corrupt practices act and damaged his reputation as a churchman and citizen.

"On June 20, 1930," Bishop Cannon's statement said, "Congressman Tinkham, after delivering a 3000-word attack upon congressional immunity, when I denounced such conduct, gave to the press 125 carefully chosen words.
"I have waited 12 months, but no criminal prosecution has been instituted against me. Now because the statute of limitations would bar any suit against Congressman Tinkham after June 20, I have brought suit so that these charges may be investigated and tried, not by the Senate committee, which has no jurisdiction, but by the courts, which will determine whether I am a shameless violator of the Federal corrupt practices act and whether I have illegally concealed receipt of disposition of the Jameson contribution, as Congressman Tinkham declares."

"Big Bill" Edwards' Alimony Order
By the Associated Press.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 5.
—Mrs. Norma Jones Edwards was awarded $400 a month alimony and $400 counsel fees yesterday in a Supreme Court suit for separation from her husband, William H. (Big Bill) Edwards, former Princeton all-American football star. She was allowed an additional $1000 for an investigation, Mrs. Edwards, against whom a counter-suit for divorce has been filed, asked for $1000 a month and $10,000 fees.
She charges cruel treatment.

I. C. C. REFUSES TO QUASH RECORD IN TERMINAL CASE

Directs, However, That Matter Be Reopened Friday and Additional Testimony Taken.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—After hearing and overruling a motion to quash a part of the record in the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association freight transfer case on the ground of "bias and prejudice" on the part of Special Examiner Harry C. Ames, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the record reopened and set next Friday for the taking of additional testimony. The hearing will be held in the offices of the commission in Washington.

The case, in which numerous hearings have been held in the last three years, was set for argument today. It involves the proposal of the Terminal Association to give a monopoly to the Columbia Terminals Co., in the hauling of less-than-carload freight from the on-track to the off-track freight stations in the St. Louis area.

Daniel Connell, representing the railroads favoring the agreement with Columbia Terminals, began the argument and said the proposed new contract would save the railroads about $250,000 a year. Chairman Brainerd asked Connell if the new contract was in the record. Connell said it was not but that he had hoped the commission would suspend the rules and go ahead with the argument.

"You don't expect us to proceed on that basis, do you?" the chairman asked.

Opposition to Contract.
F. H. Townner, representing the Chicago & Alton and the Nickel Plate railroads, said those two roads were opposed to the contract. Robert Wooley, formerly a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and now representing the Central Transfer Co. of St. Louis, said he knew half a dozen railroads were opposed to the contract, and declared that the Terminal Association could make another contract that would save it more than $250,000.

At this point the Chairman announced a recess and then an adjournment to next Friday.

W. E. Rosenbaum, counsel for the St. Louis Shippers' Conference Association, one of the chief opponents of the plan, late yesterday filed a petition with the commission, charging Ames with "bias and prejudice," and asking the commission to quash the entire record of the cost study.

Charges Prejudice.

The petition declares that when Ames conducted the cost study hearings in St. Louis last June, he was actually an employee of the Mississippi Valley Barge Line, whose president, L. Wade Childress, also is president of the Columbia Terminals Co. It cited records to show an identity of ownership of the Columbia company and the barge line.

In other words, the petition alleges that when Ames was presuming to act in a quasi-judicial capacity, he was really in the employ of one of the parties to the proceedings.

Ames previously was employed by the commission, and during his service there became familiar with the St. Louis Terminal situation. Hence, although he had resigned, the commission retained him as a special examiner to conduct the cost study hearings, which were held at the Coronado Hotel. In that proceeding he took testimony, ruled on objections, and listened to argument. Childress appeared before him in support of the proposal.

Counsel for Barge Line.
Rosenbaum states in his petition that none of the opponents of the plan knew of Ames' employment by the Mississippi Valley barge line, although they subsequently discovered that 12 days before he appeared in St. Louis to open the cost study hearings he had appeared in a proceeding at Cincinnati as counsel for the barge line. It was stated that during the St. Louis hearing, neither Ames nor Childress made any mention of their connection.

The delegation which appeared before the commission included Gladys B. Argyle, counsel for the Chamber of Commerce, Paul Versen, counsel for the Team and Truck Owners' Association, representatives of St. Louis shippers and with several Washington attorneys.

The proposal, in addition to giving the Columbia Terminals Co. an exclusive contract to haul less-than-carload freight between on-track and off-track stations, would eliminate all off-track stations except those owned by Columbia. The objectors contend that the result would be a delay of one day in delivery, and would impair service by eliminating competition. Moreover, they contend that it would prevent several shippers from using their present trucking facilities.

Sight Failing; Ends Life.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Fear that failing eyesight would bar him from entrance to West Point was said by police today to have caused Richard McKirby, 19-year-old, to shoot himself to death here last night.

Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius to Discuss Republic's Situation With MacDonald and Henderson.

PARATIONS CHIEF AMONG PROBLEMS

er World-Vexing Issues, armament, Expected to Be Gone Over on Week-End at Chequers.

The Associated Press.
LONDON, June 5.—Chancellor Bruening of Germany and Foreign Minister Curtius arrived here in Southampton this afternoon for a visit to the station by the Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson. After an exchange of greetings, the visitors were taken to a hotel.
International ramifications of present economic and political conditions in Germany will be uppermost in the discussions at Chequers tomorrow between the Chancellor and Premier MacDonald.
We propose to speak frankly in a friendly manner," the Chancellor told newspapermen this morning, "about the difficulties in my land, and naturally we shall especially about the difficulties which we have in Germany."
"Difficulties Very Serious."
Germany, he said, has tried in every possible way to reduce expenses and evolve a sound financial policy. Those measures have been heavy burdens on all classes, he asserted, adding that "political difficulties in Germany are serious; radicalism is growing; we know that a solution of these problems is not possible along ourselves alone the German Government is convinced that only way to solve them is through the frank co-operation of the nations of the world."
It is highly probable that the reparations will be the chief subject, with the Austro-German treaty and the general question of tariffs coming in for discussion.
The German delegates are expected to ask for a moratorium on all reparations payments listed "conditional" in the Young plan. They are expected to plead that, unless this request is granted, the existence of the German state in its present form will be in jeopardy.
Bruening and Curtius were entertained at the foreign office tonight. A number of Cabinet Ministers and members of Parliament, as well as the German Ambassador, attended.

Addressing London newspapermen in English after his arrival, Bruening outlined the plight of German finances. "In the Young plan there was a reduction of 700,000,000 marks (about $165,000,000)," he said. "Everybody believed this would enable Germany to lower taxes. Instead, we have been forced to raise taxes and reduce expenditures in the last 14 months by 1,500,000,000 marks (about $300,000,000)."

Bruening on His Visit.
After Bruening and Curtius landed at Southampton from a British destroyer, to which they had been transferred from the liner Hamann outside the port, and had been received by city officials, the Chancellor, in reply to the speech of welcome by Southampton's Mayor, said:

"We have come with no paper and no program. Our intention is to have a friendly talk on all matters of common interest to our two countries."

"I can assure you that Herr Curtius and I welcome the opportunity which Mr. MacDonald has given us for frank discussion with him and Mr. Henderson."

"You know as well as we do that Europe is facing problems of immense difficulty and of vital importance to all of us."

"I need hardly say that the chief topics of our conversations at Chequers no doubt will be the economic crisis from which the whole world suffers and the problem of disarmament. I am sure solution for these problems can best be promoted by open exchange of views."

Seeking Financial Relief.
The German statement, it is understood, have some doubt that much can be achieved in the way of concrete results at Chequers. The reparations problem is an international issue which cannot be solved by England and Germany alone.

Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius to Discuss Republic's Situation With MacDonald and Henderson.

REPARATIONS CHIEF AMONG PROBLEMS

Other World-Vexing Issues, Including Tariffs and Disarmament, Expected to Be Gone Over on Week-End at Chequers.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 5.—Chancellor Bruening of Germany and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius arrived here from Southampton this afternoon and were met at the station by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson. After an exchange of greetings, the visitors were taken to a hotel.

International ramifications of the present economic and political crisis in Germany will be uppermost in the discussions at Chequers tomorrow between the Chancellor and Premier MacDonald. "We propose to speak frankly and in a friendly manner," the Chancellor told newspapermen this morning. "about the difficulties in Germany, and naturally we shall speak especially about the difficulties which we have in Germany." "Difficulties Very Serious," Germany, he said, has tried in every possible way to reduce expenses and evolve a sound financial policy. Those measures have placed heavy burdens on all classes, he asserted, adding that "political difficulties in Germany are very serious, radicalism is growing, and we know that a solution of these problems is not possible among ourselves alone. The German Government is convinced that the only way to solve them is through the frank co-operation of all the nations of the world." It is highly probable that the reparations will be the chief subject, with the Austro-German treaty and the general question of tariffs coming in for discussion.

The German delegates are expected to ask for a moratorium on all reparations payments listed as "conditional" in the Young plan. They are expected to plead that, unless this request is granted, the life of the Bruening Government and the existence of the German state in its present form will be in peril.

Brundage and Curtius were entertained at the foreign office tonight. A number of Cabinet Ministers and members of Parliament, as well as the German Ambassador, attended.

Addressing London newspapermen in English after his arrival, Bruening outlined the plight of Germany. "In the Young plan (against the Dawes plan) there was a reduction of 700,000,000 marks (about $165,000,000)," he said. "Everybody believed this would enable Germany to lower taxes. Instead, we have been forced to raise taxes and reduce expenditures in the last 14 months by 12,000,000,000 marks (about $600,000,000)."

Brundage on His Visit.
After Bruening and Curtius landed at Southampton from a British destroyer, to which they had been transferred from the liner Hambr outside the port, and had been received by city officials, the Chancellor in reply to the speech of welcome by Southampton's Mayor, said:

"We have come with no papers and no program. Our intention is to have a friendly talk on all matters of common interest to our two countries."

"I can assure you that Herr Curtius and I welcomed the opportunity which Mr. MacDonald has given us for frank discussion with him and Mr. Henderson."

SPAIN'S ARMY REDUCED BY NEW WAR MINISTER

40,000 Privates and 17,000 Officers Eliminated to Keep Down Expenses.

By the Associated Press.
MADRID, June 5.—Gen. Manuel Azaña, Spain's new Minister of War, has made drastic reduction in the Spanish army for economic reasons.

His enlisted personnel has been cut from 160,000 to 120,000, and its 27,000 Majors, Colonels and Generals have been weeded down until there are less than 10,000 left.

This, it is calculated, will save $20,000,000 a year, but more far-reaching, the general believes, will be three other results.

The reduction in the number of officers will weed out the less competent commanders and allow expenditures for better equipment, thus leaving a reduced but adequate force.

Another is that money previously used for military purposes can be diverted into public improvements and educational betterment.

The third is that high military officers who previously have been dominant in Spanish political affairs now will have to devote their energies to military matters in order to keep up with the more rigorous requirements for rank and promotion.

Later these reforms may result in modification or abolition of compulsory military service. Twenty-five years ago seven years of service was obligatory. Then it was cut to three, to two, and finally, in 1920, former King Alfonso decreed that 12 months was sufficient.

The question probably will be settled by the Assembly when it frames a constitution for the new republic.

surance from MacDonald that England understands and sympathizes with Germany's attempts to balance her budget, reduce her unemployment and get back on her feet economically, and that the British Government will support a German request, if it should be made, for financial relief.

The fact that the two German statesmen have been asked here is interpreted as a proof that Germany no longer is a second-rate Power among the nations, but is regarded now as an equal, a friend and partner with England in the reconstruction of Europe.

AMPLIFIES THEORY THAT LINCOLN HAD DUAL PERSONALITY

Dr. A. A. Brill Reads Paper Before Scientists, Termining Civil War President 'Schizoid-Manic.'

EXPRESSION DOES NOT IMPLY INSANITY

Conflicting Inheritances From Father and Mother Did Not Merge, Psychologist Asserts.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Ont., June 5.—As forecast, Dr. A. A. Brill, New York psychoanalyst, read a paper to the American Psychiatric Association convention here today declaring that Abraham Lincoln was "a schizoid-manic personality."

Dr. Brill's paper was a study of the "schizoid-manic" personality, which he described as a personality in which the two conflicting inheritances from father and mother do not merge, but remain separate and distinct.

When an abstract of Dr. Brill's speech appeared in the program of the association last month, it brought a bitter protest from Dr. Edward E. Hicks, prominent Brooklyn psychiatrist, who described the allusions to Lincoln as "insulting." Dr. Hicks entered a formal protest against the speech with officers of the association.

Schizoid is a word of Greek derivation meaning to split, and the expression applied to Lincoln does not mean insanity. Dr. Brill found the trace of dual personality in a reputed tendency to tell off-color anecdotes, which bubbled up as part of Lincoln's humor. The split personality source was traced to his conflicting inheritances from his mother and father, two natures "that never became fused in him."

Ranks Lincoln as Humorist.
Dr. Brill ranked Lincoln as a wit with Mark Twain, Joel Chandler Harris (Uncle Remus) and other great American humorists. He confined his study to the emotional side of the emancipator.

"What is very peculiar about Lincoln's stories and jokes," said Dr. Brill, "is that they are appropriated from others, is the fact that many, if not most, are of an aggressive or agolagical nature, treating of pain, suffering and death, and that a great many of them were so frankly sexual as to be classed as obscene. Most of his biographers speak of the latter, but are at a loss to explain why Lincoln resorted to this form of wit. Thus Beveridge remarked that 'he had faults extremely human, such as his love of a certain type of anecdote, a taste which he never overcame and the expression of which, as will appear, was so marked a feature of his manhood and so shocking to the brilliant men among whom he did his historic work.'"

Dr. Brill named as other authorities for the anecdotes "Carl Sandburg quoting Henry Villard," and Dr. Holland's Abraham Lincoln. "Looking at this behavior with present-day eyes," Dr. Brill said, "it cannot be shocked by any of Lincoln's stories that I heard or read. To be sure, he called a spade a spade, and having been brought up in the backwoods of pioneer days."

FLIES IMPORTED TO LOUISIANA TO EAT SUGAR CANE PESTS

Insects From Peru and Argentina Brought by Plane and Ship to Feed on Borers.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 4.—Thousands of wasps and flies brought 4000 miles by ship and airplane from Peru and Argentina now are feasting on the cane borer parasites on the Louisiana sugar cane fields. One or two shipments of these insects a week are being brought in as need for reinforcements arises.

These wasps and flies, never so far away from home before, seem to be contented here, for the climatic conditions in the cane fields of Louisiana are about the same as in those of Argentina.

The cane borer parasite is smaller than a pin head. It feeds on a sugar cane. It gets its name from its habit of drilling tiny holes in the cane, sapping the strength of the cane.

The Entomological Division of the United States Department of Agriculture is bringing in the natural enemies of the borer in an effort to keep it under control. The wasps and the flies hunt out cane borers and eat them.

The adult wasps can be imported without trouble in ships but it is necessary to rush the pupa and larva of the flies here by airplanes.

USED CARS IN GREAT DEMAND DUE TO AUSTRALIAN TARIFF

Government Restriction on Imports Causes Value of Old Machines to Soar.

By the Associated Press.
SYDNEY, June 5.—Restrictions upon the importation of new automobiles, increased import duties and a money exchange rate unfavorable to Australia have increased the value of used cars here.

One syndicate made a huge amount dealing in second-hand automobiles. When the Government restrictions were announced this group commenced quietly buying used machines throughout Australia. The cars were reconditioned and, having been kept for about a year, are being slowly restored to the market at advanced prices.

For instance, one car which was bought for $500 a year ago and upon which $50 was spent, was sold for $1200.

PLAN FOR REFORMS IN CUBA

Proposals Reported Favorably by House Committee.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, June 5.—The House Committee of 35 has reported favorably on the plan devised by Dr. Juan Rodriguez Ramirez for constitutional reform. It is scheduled to be acted on by the House Monday. It has been reported that President Machado favors the plan.

Among the proposals are new elections in 1932, the resignation of President Machado early in 1933, university autonomy, woman suffrage, and changes in the Cabinet system.

SLASH IN DOLE RECOMMENDED BY BRITISH BOARD

Majority Report of Commission Also Favors Increase in Payments by Workers and Employers.

RADICAL LABOR TO OPPOSE PLAN

Issue May Trouble MacDonald, but Alliance With Liberals Is Expected to Sustain Him.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 5.—A recommendation for a reduction of the British unemployment dole is proving a source of trouble for Prime Minister MacDonald's Labor Government.

The recommendation was made in a majority report of the Royal Commission on Unemployment Insurance. It advocated a reduction of the weekly dole payment and other drastic changes in the system.

The Independent Labor party group, forming the left wing of MacDonald's Labor party, was quick to record its hostility to the commission's proposals at a meeting last evening.

The Independents decided "to oppose strenuously any attempt" to give the recommendations legislative sanction.

James Maxton, the most prominent member in the group of Independents, predicted the proposals would be "met in a hostile way by the organized working class movement."

Other left wing members of Parliament called the recommendations "shocking in the extreme."

What the Prime Minister will do is a matter of speculation, but the general view is that the understanding between the Liberals and the Labor party is sufficiently complete that MacDonald may threaten by his own left wing members with little anxiety.

The Royal Commission advocates reduction in the dole by 50 cents a week for men and women over 21 who now draw from $3.50 to $4.25 a week. Proportionate reductions are recommended for young or recipients. The committee says that the present debt of the unemployment fund exceeds $400,000,000 and is increasing by nearly $5,000,000 a week. The committee makes a number of minor recommendations to remedy abuses of the system.

It is suggested that workers and employers each pay 18 cents weekly to the fund instead of 12 cents as at present.

A minority report, signed by two members of the commission, disagrees with most of the recommendations. It says that any attempt to balance the fund under existing conditions can only result in making the condition of the unemployed worse.

Dr. John A. Ryan Urges That U. S. Spend Three Billion on Buildings To Prevent Misery Next Winter

Catholic Economist Suggests Special Session at Once to Vote Bonds—Says Causes of Depression Are at Home.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Unless the coming winter is to witness an increase in unemployment and suffering, the Federal Government must decide at once upon a gigantic program of public construction, and the issuance of $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 of bonds to meet the cost. President Hoover should immediately summon an extra session of Congress to appropriate the money and provide for its expenditure. Federal taxes on large incomes, estates and inheritances should be increased promptly, and the proceeds used to assist cities, counties and states in caring for the needy.

This briefly summarizes the conclusions of Dr. John A. Ryan, noted Catholic economist, concerning conditions created by the present depression. He believes the country is facing a desperate emergency, and that only drastic measures will suffice to avert further disaster. He believes that industrial leaders are bewildered, and that only the Federal Government can lead the way to economic recovery.

"Everyone with sufficient knowledge to understand the situation and sufficient courage to meet it agrees that a vast public works program is the only means through which the Government can act effectively to check unemployment," he told the writer.

Hoover's Stand in 1928.

"President Hoover agreed with that principle as recently as 1928. He sent Gov. Brewster of Maine to the Governors' conference at New Orleans, with a suggestion for a $3,000,000,000 construction program to be invoked in the event of an emergency. Moreover, I am informed that members of the President's Commission on Unemployment, before its virtual disbandment, recommended to him the expenditure of $2,500,000,000 on public roads and reforestation, and of several hundred millions for other purposes.

"The discouraging fact is that this administration has been unwilling to face the situation courageously. The increase in the amount appropriated for public works at the last session of Congress was not in excess of $150,000,000. This was utterly inadequate to relieve unemployment, yet the President scolded Congress for 'extravagance!'"

"It would be an easy matter for the Government to sell $5,000,000,000 of bonds. Notwithstanding the destitution on every hand, it is evident that plenty of money is available for investment, and at very low rates. I venture to say that any Government issue would immediately be oversubscribed. This should have been undertaken last spring. Whether at this late date we could, in the next six months, provide work for half of those unemployed, is questionable, but certainly that is our only hope of immediate relief."

The writer suggested that an extra session of Congress would be required to appropriate the money and provide for the method of expenditure.

"Of course, and it should be called without delay," replied Dr. Ryan. "Furthermore, it is inevitable that the Federal Government will be compelled in the end to furnish assistance to the cities and states which have been caring for the needy. The cities are in a bad way. Notwithstanding all the high-flown talk we have heard about the heathen of private charity and the baleful character of the 'dole,' the fact remains that about 70 percent of all the funds made available for the relief of suffering in the last year have been public funds. Sooner or later the Federal Government will have to assume its share of this burden. If it is not Nolte Thinks Dropping Plan to Eliminate Bottleneck Might Lower Damages Asked.

FOUR COMMISSION ASSESSED BENEFITS

Last Are Awarded $458,972 Although Real Estate Experts Estimated $199,961 Sufficient.

Abandonment by the city of the project to eliminate the bottleneck in Lindell boulevard between Channing avenue and Grand boulevard, as mute notice to property owners here and elsewhere that excessive damage awards will not be paid and as a move to induce holdout owners of real estate along the narrow thoroughfare to accept what are considered reasonable damages, was recommended today by Comptroller Nolte.

The fourth commission to assess benefit and damages since the improvement was proposed 12 years ago recently made its report recommending higher awards than the previous commission to whose findings the city filed exceptions. City Counselor Attench has filed exceptions to the last report and the appointment of another commission entailing the usual delays is not improbable.

The last commission considered only the claims of nine property owners between Channing and Lindell, awarding them $458,972. Real estate experts employed by the city had estimated damages to this property at $199,961. The third commission had awarded $255,255. The owner had asked $672,159.

Delay Hurts Rentals.

Edward H. Baumann, former State Senator, who first suggested abandonment of the project, was a member of the third commission but refused to sign the report because he thought damage awards were too high and that the work had not been done properly. He prepared a minority report in which the nine property owners were given damages of $255,255. The report of the third commission also included other property. Baumann's report was not filed.

The city charter provides that if the city dismises any action for condemnation it shall not begin a like action for 10 years unless upon petition of owners of he did not possess the inhibiting influences of a New England environment.

"Lincoln had to cope with enormous trials and vicissitudes, poor heredity from his father's side, rumble birth, abject poverty, struggle for education, and an unsatisfied love life, all of which he summed up in the story of the boy who was asked whether he liked ginger bread.

"Yes," he said, "I like it more than anything else, but I get less of it."

attained the highest ambition of any American. Nevertheless, throughout his life he was unable to disburden himself of his depressive moods.

Dr. Brill says there are "many authorities" for the existence of these moods described variously as the blues, melancholy, abstraction, and mental depression.

No Distinct Mania Attacks. "To any psychiatrist," Dr. Brill says, "the above mentioned descriptions are quite plain. We know that in the ordinary case of 'the blues' or 'melancholy,' the depressions are often followed by a phase of elation. As far as my investigations go no distinct manic attacks were ever observed in Lincoln.

"There were no doubt numerous mild euphoric rises (general spirit of elation) which showed themselves in his incessant story telling, and in his fluent wit.

"Judging by all the descriptions given of Lincoln's depressions, I feel that all one can say is that he was a schizoid manic personality, now and then harassed by schizoid manic moods. These moods never reached to that degree of profundity to justify the diagnosis of insanity. At all times Lincoln remained in touch with reality, his ego never sought refuge in insanity.

"Those who study the deeper recesses of the mind will readily understand the nature of this emotional surging. Two contrasting natures struggled within him—the inheritance from an untutored, roving and unstable father, who treated him brutally, and from a cheerful, fine, affectionate mother from whom Lincoln claimed to have inherited his power of analysis, his logic, his mental activity and his ambition.

"His mental regressions were shallow and transient in comparison to the pathological escapes one sees in the psychoses and intoxications.

done at a special session of Congress this summer, then it will have to be done at the regular session next winter.

Of a great public construction program had been adopted last spring, the Government would now be paying out this money, but it would be paying it for labor and materials, not for charity. In other words, it would be getting something valuable in return.

The interviewer observed that Dr. Ryan did not appear to share the opinion of Senator Couzens of Michigan, that industry is capable of finding a way out of the present situation if its leaders will apply themselves to the problem.

Refers to Senator Couzens. "Everyone who is not a Socialist would prefer to see recovery achieved through private initiative rather than through the Government," Dr. Ryan replied. "But just how long just we wait before these industrial geniuses present their remedy?" Then he chuckled, as he added:

"I should think that Senator Couzens' faith would be somewhat shaken by his recent experience with the United States Chamber of Commerce."

As will be recalled, prior to the recent annual convention of the Chamber at Atlantic City, Couzens publicly expressed the hope that the convention would present some concrete program for economic relief. President Butterworth replied in a statement saying that any suggestions which Couzens had to offer would be gratefully received, but when the Senator in return made it plain that he would welcome an invitation to present his suggestions to the convention, the Chamber promptly dropped the subject.

Did Dr. Ryan believe that depression in this country was a consequence of world depression? He did not, he replied. On the contrary, he had a distinct impression that conditions did not become acute in South America and Europe until after the stock market crash in this country.

Causes of Depression. "The causes of our depression can be found at home," he went on. "Wages did not keep pace with the increase in production. Consequently, nearly every one of our major industries was producing more goods than the public could buy. As production increased, industry was overladen with new issues of securities. One reason for this, I suspect, was to prevent labor from getting the increase they were seeking that it went to those able to purchase the securities. If labor had got this additional return, it would have been spent for primary commodities, and that would have meant a much sounder and more equitable distribution."

Mention was made of unemployment insurance, and of Senator Wagner's proposals for long-range planning and Federal employment exchanges.

"All these things are fine—for the future!" exclaimed the distinguished priest-economist. "I have no doubt that, if Senator Wagner's bills had been passed two years ago, much of the present distress would have been avoided. But now we are in the very midst of an emergency, and it demands emergency treatment. Unless the Government acts promptly to provide work for three or four million of the unemployed, I look for a dreadful winter."

three-fifths of the property to be taken or upon condition that the city pay all damages.

Bauman said that owners of property in the damaged area had complained to him that they were losing a large part of their potential income from the property because of the delay. One owner, he said, told him he was renting a portion of his property at $250 a month whereas he could get several times this sum if he was in a position to give the tenant a lease for a number of years.

River Front Plan Cited. Bauman and Nolte agreed in the opinion that it was probable that the owners would take a different view of the situation if the project were dropped. They think the property owners would be willing to get together with the city on stipulations, file a petition for the improvement and make possible its completion more quickly and more cheaply, at the same time offering a salutary object lesson to owners of some property effected by other proposed improvements.

City Counselor Muench declined to express himself as to the suggestion. He said the city would appeal to the Supreme Court if its exceptions to the Lindell awards were overruled. If the Circuit Court decides in favor of the city, another commission would have to be appointed to act upon property in dispute, since the award on the commission cannot be lowered by the Court. This, of course, would mean further delay.

Muench remarked, however, that the owners of river front property, now not profitable, who are offering inducements for construction of the proposed elevated highway along Third street, present a decided contrast to the Lindell bottleneck land owners.

Norman Kerry's Salary Attached. LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 5.—An attachment on the salary of Norman Kerry, movie actor, was obtained by A. A. Unger yesterday for collection on a note for $500 alleged to have been given to the Agua Caliente Co., operators of the resort near Tijuana. The indebtedness was alleged to have been contracted about two years ago.

LOUIS MARIN PROPOSES FRENCH WOMAN-SUFFRAGE

Former Cabinet Minister Also Would Return to Proportional Representation.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 5.—A proposal for woman suffrage in France and the eligibility of women for public office has been submitted to the Suffrage Committee of the Chamber of Deputies by Louis Marin, former Cabinet Minister and now leader of the important Center group.

Marin urged that a bill to this effect be introduced at once so that it could become law before the 1932 parliamentary election.

At the same time, he asked for a return to the system of proportional representation employed in the 1919 and 1924 parliamentary elections, but discarded in 1928 in favor of the election of Deputies by individual districts, as in the case of Congressmen in the United States.

Marin, in an accompanying report, said that both reforms for a long time have had the force of public opinion behind them. Successive chambers have approved more or less generous woman suffrage bills, but have always come to grief in the Senate.

NEW STEEL-CONCRETE MILL. Lead Company to Build $400,000 Plant at Picher, Ok.

PICHER, Ok.—A nine-block area here is being cleared of residents in preparation for construction of the second steel and concrete mill of the lead and zinc industry.

A $600-ton-per-day plant to cost between $400,000 and $500,000, is planned by the Eagle-Picher Lead

Co. The Eagle-Picher Co. was original lessee of lands here from the Indians. It rented the land to the Boston-Picher Realty Co., which in turn sub-leased it to individuals on a 30-day basis. The tenants will have 30 days to vacate.

RECIPES FOR DISHES
IN WEEK'S MENUS

Offerings Which Will Aid Home Cooks Put Variety Into Family Meals.

Use chilled canned pears for salad, allowing a large half for each serving. Drain the juice from the pears and heat to the boiling point. If fresh pears are used simmer them in a syrup made from one-half cup sugar and one cup water. Add one tablespoon little red cinnamon candies to the fruit in syrup and simmer until the candies are dissolved. Add the pears and boil very gently for five minutes or until they are pink in color. Remove from the syrup and chill. Save the syrup to add to fruit drinks.

Mash a cake of cream cheese and season with one tablespoon cream, three tablespoons chopped nuts and a little salt and paprika. Fill the centers of the chilled pears with the cheese and top with a canned fig or apricot. Place in a nest of crisp lettuce and serve with thin mayonnaise or with boiled salad dressing.

Blanc Mange With Sauce.
Mix one-third cup sugar with two tablespoons cornstarch. Add two eggs and beat until smooth. Scald two cups milk and pour gradually into the egg mixture, stirring constantly. Return to the saucepan and stir continually over a slow fire until thickened, smooth and ready to boil. Boil for a minute, remove from the fire, add one teaspoon vanilla extract and pour into flour individual molds or serving dishes. Cool and serve with strawberry or any fruit sauce or cream.

For strawberry sauce wash and hull ripe berries and mash enough to make one cupful. Sprinkle with one-half cup powdered sugar and two teaspoons lemon juice. Let stand in a warm place for at least half an hour before serving. Stir once or twice, to dissolve the sugar.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.
Scald, peel and chill four large, firm tomatoes. Scoop out most of the pulp. Shred two cups crisp new cabbage and mix with one-fourth cup tomato pulp, one teaspoon chopped chives, one-fourth cup chopped nuts and one-half cup diced celery. Add mayonnaise well seasoned with lemon juice, using enough to moisten. Stuff the tomatoes with the mixture, serve on lettuce or watercress.

Fudge Squares.
Melt four squares unsweetened chocolate over hot water and stir in one-half cup sugar, one-fourth cup milk and yolk of one egg. Stir over hot water until thickened and smooth. Remove from the fire and cool until lukewarm. Meanwhile, cream together one-fourth cup butter and one-half cup sugar. When well blended, add one egg and beat until smooth. Next, stir in one-half cup milk and one and three-fourths cups cake flour mixed and sifted with one-fourth teaspoon baking soda, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. When mixed, add the cooled chocolate and one teaspoon vanilla extract. Pour into a well-greased shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven—250 degrees—for 30 to 35 minutes, or until firm to the touch. Remove from oven and cool in the pan. When cold, cover with fudge icing and cut in small squares.

Fudge Icing.
Melt three squares unsweetened chocolate over hot water. Mix up-beaten egg white with two tablespoons evaporated milk and one-half cup confectioners' sugar. When blended, stir in the melted chocolate and beat well. Add another tablespoon milk and then enough confectioners' sugar to make a creamy mixture. It should be rather soft and must be well beaten. Spread roughly over the cake. It will harden on the outside but remain soft and creamy within.

CABBAGE SLAW DE LUXE
Dice Pineapple and Marshmallows Give Distinction.
This dish is sometimes referred to as "bride's salad" as when made of the white cabbage heart and served with whipped cream dressing on lettuce hearts, it is daintily enough for any wedding repast. Shave cabbage fine. Soak one hour in cold water. Press dry in cloth. (There should be one quart of cabbage.) Place on ice. Divide one can of pineapple and dry. Add pineapple, one-half cup blanched almonds and two cups marshmallows cut fine, to cabbage.
Dressing: Four eggs whites beaten stiff, one-half cup sugar, level teaspoon flour and juice of two lemons. Mix flour, sugar, and enough boiling water to make smooth paste. Stir in eggs and lemon juice. Cook in double boiler until consistency of custard. When cold, add to one-half pint of cream, whipped.

A SAVORY MAIN DISH
A Glorified Edition of An Old Italian Dish.
Trim a fresh beef kidney and cut in half-inch slices. Dredge with sifted flour and set aside. Cook several slices of bacon, cut in small pieces, until slightly browned, add the kidney, one tablespoon finely chopped onion and one minced green pepper.
Stir until meat is lightly browned and then add one-half cup strained tomato pulp, one teaspoon salt and a few grains of pepper. Cover closely and simmer gently about 30 minutes. Mix one tablespoon flour with a little cold water and stir into the hot mixture. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly with a fork to prevent lumping.

A VACATION SUGGESTION
Simple and Fruit Desserts Best for Small Flocks.
Custards, blancmange, rice pudding, junket and similar milk desserts that are so wholesome for children may be made more popular by serving them with fruit sauces, with chocolate sauce, or by garnishing them with fresh fruit, with bits of jelly, a few marshmallows, etc.
Needless to say, they should always be carefully made and free from lumps. Slow cooking and almost constant stirring during the cooking are two important factors in insuring success in boiled puddings; baked custards require very slow baking with the custard pan placed in a dish of hot water in the oven.

GRAPE JUICE ADDS FLAVOR TO MANY COOKED FOODS

Convenient to Use As This Fruit Product Needs No Special Preparation.

The rich grape flavor may be obtained all seasons of the year by using grape juice instead of the fresh fruit.

Grape whip, for instance, may be made with one and one-half cups grape juice, one tablespoon gelatine, one-fourth cup boiling water and one-fourth cup cold water.

Soak gelatine in cold water five minutes. Add boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add grape juice. Put in refrigerator to set. When partially congealed beat with beater until light and foamy. Return to refrigerator to set. Serve plain or with thin custard sauce, if desired.

Grape Juice Pudding.
This dainty bread pudding is made with two cups stale bread squares, one egg, one-half cup sugar and two cups grape juice.

Butter slices of bread, cut in one-inch squares and place in baking dish. Place grape juice, sugar and yolk of egg in bowl and mix then add to bread squares. Bake slowly 20 minutes. Beat white of egg very stiff, add one tablespoon sugar and beat again. When pudding is done arrange the egg white meringue on top and brown in oven.

Grape Juice Pie.
Bake a pie shell, making the pastry according to a favorite recipe. For the filling take two cups grape juice, one cup sugar, three-fourths cup flour, one teaspoon butter and three egg yolks. Put grape juice in double boiler. Sift and add dry ingredients, add butter and beaten egg yolks. Let mixture boil 30 minutes until it makes pie pie shell, cover with meringue made from three egg-whites, brown lightly in hot oven.

Mixed Ham Biscuits.
Mix and sift two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon salt. Work in three or four tablespoons shortening with tips of fingers. Moisten with a cup of milk. Turn out on lightly floured board, pat, roll and cut in rounds. Spread with finely chopped ham or other meat moistened slightly with white sauce, place a second biscuit over the first and bake in a hot oven.

Berry Biscuits.
Make a soft biscuit dough. Roll about one-fourth inch thick. Cut in squares, fill in 'gem' pans, fill with berries, sprinkle with sugar. Pick up each corner, pinch corners and sides together so the juice will not cook out, and bake in a hot oven 15 or 20 minutes. Serve with hard sauce.

A FAVORITE PICNIC VIAND

Veal Loaf May Be Served Sliced or in Sandwiches.

One of the most palatable meats to take on a picnic is veal loaf, which may be used either for sandwich filling or else served sliced. A nice loaf is made with three pounds raw, lean veal, one-half pound fat salt pork, one cup cracked crumbs, one small onion, one tablespoon parsley, one egg, two teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon pepper and one cup diluted evaporated milk.

Put the meats, crackers, onion and parsley through the food chopper using the fine knife. Mix well with the seasonings and the milk and beaten egg. Press into a well greased pan and bake rather slowly for three hours, basting frequently with hot water in which a little butter has been melted.

Place a row of hard cooked eggs through the center of the loaf when placing it in the pan; the servings are then most attractive with a slice of egg in the center of each.

About the Guinea Fowl.

Of all domestic birds the guinea is the "gamest" in flavor, and for this reason they are growing in popularity and so are becoming increasingly scarce and expensive. Also the guinea for 1 has very little fat of its own so it is necessary to add extra fat when cooking to give the meat flavor.

A TASTY COMBINATION

Lemon Juice an Agreeable Flavor for Certain Vegetables.

Vegetables although valuable foods, need proper seasoning and flavor to be relished. Lemon juice combines with many vegetables to increase flavor, while lemon garnishes, add a decorative note that makes these dishes more appetizing. The following recipes for lemon with certain vegetables will give suggestions for other combinations.

Asparagus in lemon rings: Cut six thick slices of lemon, remove pulp and in rings of rind, insert three or four stalks of cooked asparagus. Serve hot with lemon butter or Hollandaise sauce.

Beets with lemon-orange dressing: Cover eight small or six medium sized beets boiled and sliced thin, with one tablespoon sugar to which has been added juice of two oranges and of two small lemons.

Cherry Turnovers

Make a rich pastry and roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut in rounds about four inches across. In the center of each place one-half cup stoned tart cherries mixed with two tablespoons sugar and one-half teaspoon lemon juice. Fold over edges and press together with white of egg. Sprinkle a little cinnamon and granulated sugar on the top of each and bake in a moderate oven until a delicate brown.

SERVE ROAST DUCK WITH FRUIT SAUCE

This Fowl Offers a Pleasant Change From the Usual Chicken Dinner.

Roast duck is pretty generally liked, and good ones are available now at quite reasonable prices. A good duck is comparatively heavy for its size, the flesh is firm, the beak a good yellow, the feet soft and tender and the body plump.

It may be stuffed or not for roasting, but when a stuffing is used the meat goes further. Any well flavored stuffing such as used for chicken may be used, or a mixture of two cups fine stale bread crumbs, one-half cup finely chopped peanuts, one-half cup diced celery, salt and pepper to season, two tablespoons melted butter, one teaspoon minced onion and hot milk to moisten. One beaten egg may be added for a firmer, slightly richer dressing, though it is not actually necessary. The amount is enough stuffing for a five-pound duck.

Vegetables for Duck Dinner.
In planning vegetables for a duck dinner, rice is a good change from potatoes and an excellent combination with the fruit sauce suggested with the duck in this week's menu. There is something about the flavor of wild rice that is simply par excellence with duck. It is, however, considerably more expensive than the ordinary domestic rice. Fresh or canned green peas and a sliced tomato salad with French dressing mixed with minced chives round out the meal nicely. The scraps of duck left over—and generally only scraps can be counted on, for there is not as much meat on a duck as a chicken—should make a good luncheon next day, combined with leftover rice and gravy and served on toast.

Roast Duck With Fruit Sauce.
Select a duck weighing about five pounds as this will make one good meal for four or five people and allow a luncheon from the remnants next day. Singe the duck, remove all bits of down, and wash inside and out. Drain thoroughly, stuff as desired and truss or tie securely. Place in a roasting pan and sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper and flour. Roast in a hot oven—450 degrees—for 20 minutes, or until the duck begins to brown, then reduce the heat to moderate or 350 degrees, and continue roasting for about an hour and a quarter longer. Baste frequently during cooking.

Fruit Sauce.
When duck is done, remove the meat to a hot platter, pour off most of the fat in the pan, leaving about two tablespoonsful. Stir three tablespoons flour into it and when well mixed, add one cup cold water, one-half cup pineapple juice and the juice of half an orange. Season with salt and let boil up once or twice. Add one-half cup diced orange pulp, two tablespoons crushed drained pineapple and six pitted cherries cut in quarters.

Ambrosia Salad.
Peel and dice oranges. Shred lettuce and arrange in nests on salad plates. Peel bananas, scrape off fiber, cover with lemon juice, and cut into slices. On lettuce arrange portions of bananas and oranges. Sprinkle with marshmallows cut into quarters, add cocoanut. Serve with cream mayonnaise.

SPECIAL KNACK REQUIRED IN SHREDDING CABBAGE

Lettuce, Too, Often Receives This Treatment for Use in Soup and Salad.

Many recipes call for shredded lettuce or shredded cabbage. One of the reasons for shredding these articles is because many persons found it inconvenient to divide lettuce leaves into small pieces with the fork.

A second reason for using shredded lettuce is economic, as by shredding the article the coarser outside leaves of the vegetable may be utilized in connection with the inside or heart leaves.

The proper and easiest way of shredding lettuce leaves is to roll several tightly together and cut the roll into thin strips with scissors.

To shred cabbage, slice through a section of the head with a very sharp, long knife.

DEVILED HAM OMELET

Appropriate Dish for Hikers, Tourists and Campers.

The time has passed when automobile tourists are satisfied with food that is unsatisfactory and devoid of nourishment. When the car draws up by the roadside for the tourist cook to prepare breakfast, it is dollars to doughnuts that the main dish of the meal will be savory and appetizing for the members of the party will be satisfied with nothing else.

On occasions such as this the cook will be glad to include in the menu deviled ham omelet which is particularly appropriate to cook over an open fire.

To make it take four eggs, four tablespoons canned or fresh milk, salt spoon of salt, same amount of pepper, one tablespoon butter, oil or other shortening and one small can deviled ham.

Beat whites and yolks separately. Add milk and seasoning to beaten yolks. Fold in beaten whites. Melt butter in frying pan. When bubbling hot, turn in the omelet and cook in usual way. Warm deviled ham in a cup sitting in hot water. When omelet is firm, spread one-half with ham, fold over and serve at once on a hot platter, garnished with sprinkling of chopped parsley.

Chocolate Prune Eggs.

Soak large prunes in cold water until they puff up. Drain, split one side and remove the stone, filling the cavity with walnut or pecan meats. Drop one at a time into sweet coating chocolate, lift out with a fork and lay on wax paper to harden. They are delicious for birthday party, picnic or motor trip.

Vegetable Cookery.

Cook green vegetables as quickly as possible and in very little water, as in this way the color is more attractive and the flavor better. Also a short, quick cooking period does not destroy as much of the vitamin content as does long, slow cooking. In general green vegetables are best cooked covered.

Potatoes En Casserole.

Scrub clean and cut potatoes into halves lengthwise and place in casserole; sprinkle with salt, dot with butter, cover and bake in moderate oven until soft, turning potatoes occasionally. Remove from oven, uncover and sprinkle with parsley before serving.

MAKING LARGE-SIZED RECIPES SMALLER

Suggestions for Cutting Down Recipes to Serve Small Families.

One of the biggest difficulties in cooking for a small family is in finding recipes that are planned for two or three servings; or in knowing how to use a larger proportioned recipe so that it can be made to suit a family of two.

Most of the recipes that are published these days are planned for either four or six persons, and generally each one states the number it will serve. The majority of them can be cut down to one-half or one-third and made just as though the entire quantity were being used.

Since six is the average number planned for in recipes, it is usually an easier matter to divide the amounts in half and make three portions for you will seldom have difficulty in disposing of the extra one. If it is not eaten at one meal, there is always next day's lunch to look to. And leftover desserts have a way of disappearing when a "before bedtime snack" is wanted.

Halving a Recipe.
When an uneven number of eggs are used in a recipe—say three and half of the amount is being made up—it will do no harm to use two small eggs, or use one large one and an extra tablespoon of milk. It is entirely possible to use one and one-half eggs if you want to be very accurate. Beat the extra egg slightly, and divide the liquid it makes. The unused half may be utilized in salad dressing, in a sauce for vegetables or fish, or perhaps used in some other dish under construction.

Since most rules are easier to follow if an example is shown, the following recipe for tapioca cream is given in both the large, or regular recipe, and then in the "cut-down" proportions. The smaller amount makes just two good portions.

Tapioca Cream.
Scald three cups milk and stir into it one-third cup tapioca, one-half cup sugar and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Stir occasionally and cook over hot water until the tapioca is clear and the mixture thickened.

Beat the yolks of two eggs until light in color, and the whites until stiff enough to hold their shape. Add a little of the hot tapioca gradually to the egg yolks, stirring it in carefully to avoid cooking the egg. This will happen if too much of the hot mixture is added at once, for egg yolk cooks at a comparatively low temperature. When about one-half cup of the tapioca has been mixed with the egg, it may safely be stirred into the rest of the tapioca, for it will be heated by then.

Remove from the fire, stir in beaten egg whites. Whip with a fork until the egg whites are blended with the mixture, then set aside to cool. Pineapple, apricots, prunes, cherries or any canned or stewed fruit may be added to the pudding, or it may be poured over any fruit before serving. Serves six.

Tapioca Cream for Two.
One tablespoon tapioca, one cup scalded milk, two tablespoons sugar, one egg, a few grains of salt and a scant half teaspoon vanilla. Make just as above.

One cup dry material is equal to 16 tablespoonsfuls so that two table spoons of sugar is very close to one-third of the amount used in the original recipe, namely one-third cup. Since there is a little more evaporation of liquid in cooking a small amount than a large, and also since you have used a little more egg than the original recipe calls for, one tablespoon of tapioca is all that is required to thicken the cup of milk, though the equivalent of five tablespoonsfuls is used for the three cups in the large recipe.

It will take a little experimenting to get exact proportions in smaller recipes, but in most instances no harm is done if half a tablespoonful more or less of one ingredient or another is used. In the matter of flavoring and of seasoning, add a very little of the required seasoning at a time. Once in it cannot be taken out, so it is better to use less than might be needed and add more if necessary.

BOILED BRISKET OF BEEF

This Is One of the Economical Cuts of Beef.

Brisket of beef when nicely prepared and cooked makes an appetizing main dish for a home dinner.

A two and one-half pound piece of brisket is a good size to boil. Seasonings needed include one small piece of bayleaf, two tablespoons butter, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one and one-half cups meat stock, two tablespoons browned flour and two tablespoons drippings. Water may be substituted for meat stock.

Wash meat clean; sear in fat to a golden brown color; cover with boiling water, add bayleaf and let boil 15 minutes, then simmer gently until tender, about two and one-half hours. Remove meat from water; then drain, using liquor for soup; cream butter and flour, add meat stock and salt; cook gently over flame 10 minutes. Place meat on serving platter, turn over gravy and serve.

To brown flour, place in a dry frying pan and stir with wooden spoon until a brown color.

BERRIES AND SMALL FRUITS IDEAL FOR DEEP DISH PIES

Individual Small Pies or Tarts Divide Favor With the Deep Dish Sort.

For berries, and stewed fruits especially, there is much to recommend this particular type of pastry in which there is no bottom crust. Any fairly shallow glass casserole or baking dish may be used.

Make pastry and line edges or sides of dish only. Pour in prepared filling and cover with crust. This is particularly suitable to rhubarb pie and other juicy berry pies where the juice is bound to soak into the lower crust.

Tarts are small pies and may be made in special tart tins with fluted edges, or in the regular muffin pans, or shaped with a round cutter, and their rims fluted up by hand. If they have tiny strips of lattice paste across the top, they will have a gay, dressy look.

Both strawberry and raspberry tarts, are delicious additions to the summer tea or porch party.

TUNA FISH SPAGHETTI

A One-Dish Meal Which Has Great Appetite Appeal.

The home cook of today, unlike her grandmother, revels in simplifying the preparation of meals and in combining several nourishing foods in one cooked dish.

This tasty combination dish of tuna fish and spaghetti meets both of the above conditions.

Cook one-half pound spaghetti in plenty of salted boiling water until tender—about 15 minutes.

While spaghetti is cooking prepare a sauce by chopping one clove garlic very fine with several sprigs of parsley. Put four tablespoons oil in saucepan. When oil is hot add garlic and parsley, a very little salt and pepper, and one small can tuna. Cook three minutes, add three tablespoons tomato sauce and a little water. Cook five minutes and remove from fire.

Drain spaghetti and pile on platter. Pour over the tuna fish mixture, mix and serve.

Orange Tea Muffins.

Mix and sift two cups pastry flour, four teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon salt. Work in four tablespoons butter with tips of fingers. Moisten with three-fourths cup rich milk. Grease small muffin pans. Mix two tablespoons melted butter with one tablespoon orange juice, one-half cup sugar and one tablespoon grated orange rind. Put a teaspoon of this mixture in each muffin pan and cover with a teaspoon of the dough. Repeat, having dough on top. Bake in a hot oven for 10 or 12 minutes.

When Making a Cake. Cake mixture should come well up to the corners and sides of pans, leaving a slight depression in the center. Cake will then be perfectly flat on top when baked.

FRUIT OMELETS ARE GREATLY FAVORED

They Grace the Breakfast or Luncheon Table Equally Well.

One of the quickest substantial luncheon dishes that can be made is an omelet. A pineapple omelet is a delightful novelty. Make the omelet in the usual way, and when it is ready to be folded, lay slices of pineapple or well-drained crushed pineapple on half of it. Fold over, and serve immediately.
Should anyone like the recipe for the omelet here it is: Add one-quarter teaspoon salt to four eggs and beat until light. Add three tablespoons hot water. Melt one tablespoon butter in a frying-pan and turn in the mixture. Cook slowly.

Orange Omelet.
To make an orange omelet take one egg, few gratings orange rind, one tablespoon orange juice, few grains salt, one orange, two teaspoons butter, two teaspoons powdered sugar. Beat the egg slightly, adding the orange rind and juice and salt. Peel the orange, removing all white membrane, and cut into very thin slices. Sprinkle with one teaspoon of the powdered sugar. Melt the butter in hot individual omelet pan or frying pan.

Pour in the egg mixture and cook over a low heat, shaking the pan and pricking the mixture with a fork until all the mixture is cooked. Roll or fold and turn out onto serving dish. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and surround with slices of orange.

Cherry Omelet.
Make a plain omelet by beating three eggs until they are thick and frothy. Add a little salt, a tablespoon of sugar, two tablespoons of milk, a teaspoon of flour. Pour into a frying pan in which there are three tablespoons of melted butter.
Pierce the edges toward the middle of the omelet as it sets, using a silver fork, and when the mixture is set and lightly browned, scatter over it canned sour cherries.
Roll up lightly, slip onto a hot platter and sift powdered sugar over it. Pour some of the sirup around.

Dressing Up Foods.
Whipped cream and evaporated milk may be tinted with liquid or paste vegetable coloring. Fold liquid coloring, a few drops at a time, into the whipped milk until the desired shade is reached or mix a tiny bit of paste coloring with a few drops of the liquid and add gradually to the whipped product.

NEW GREEN CORN OFFERED BY THE LOCAL MARKETS

Corn on the Cob Included in the List of Typical American Foods.

June ushers in the green corn season, the delicacy being shipped in from the South.
Everybody looks forward to feasting on green corn which is one of our most appreciated vegetables. Americans, especially, are devoted to their roasting ears.
However, as it is impossible in most modern households to roast corn, the secret of success in cooking young corn lies in not cooking it too long or too hard.

Very young corn put into boiling water and allowed to steam for from 10 to 12 minutes is delicious, sweet and tender. In reality, this method of cooking corn on the cob does not boil it, but coddles it.
The essential point to be remembered in cooking corn is to not cook young corn too hard or too long.

No dressing is more satisfactory for corn on the cob than butter with a dusting of pepper and salt to suit the individual's taste.

Banana Dainty.
To six bananas, add three tablespoons of syrup, three tablespoons of butter, one-quarter teaspoon of salt. Cut the bananas in halves, and then lengthwise in four pieces. Add the syrup, salt and butter. Cook very slowly on back of stove or on a simmering burner until the bananas are soft, but retain their shape. Serve with unsweetened whipped cream.

PLANNING MEALS FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

Market Supplies of Vegetables and Fruits Are Increasing in Variety.

Vegetables and salad greens are becoming more abundant, cheaper in price and better in quality each week. In the salad line most markets show garden and iceberg varieties of lettuce, romaine, watercress, escarole, endive, field salad and occasionally dandelion greens.
It is getting a little late for the last two named, though they may be still found in some sections.
Fresh peas, spinach, carrots, new cabbage, asparagus, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, cabbage sprouts or "collards" as they are sometimes called, green beans, tiny new beets, spring onions—all these are possibilities in the fresh vegetable line that lend interest to the search for green foods for the family table. The week's menus should use most of them in one way or another.

Economical uses of leftovers present a problem to many housekeepers, and one that is necessary to solve when the food budget is limited. It is one of the things that should be given special attention in planning of the weekly menus, and each day's meals should be considered with the idea of yesterday's and tomorrow's meals in mind. Time as well as money is saved by doing this.

For example, there will undoubtedly be odds and ends of leftover vegetables in the icebox after Sunday and Monday meals are out of the way. All of these may be combined with extra potatoes and onions, perhaps, or a small can of tomatoes and utilized in making the vegetable chowder that is suggested as the hot dish for Tuesday's lunch. On the other hand, if there is no surplus on hand, an excellent chowder may be quickly prepared by diluting canned vegetable soup with milk, heating and serving.

Lamb leftover from Monday dinner may be reheated in gravy flavored with a little currant jelly and served for Tuesday night. The lamb bones, together with any scraps of meat remaining, may be stewed to make a stock used in basting the stuffed eggplant served on Wednesday. The meat is chopped fine and mixed with breadcrumbs, onions, chopped egg plant pulp and moistened with the stock, stuffed into the shells and baked, basting frequently with lamb stock during the process.
There are endless fascinating ways to play the game of making the most of leftovers.

When making, or buying, muffins for Sunday breakfast, plan enough to serve toasted for supper. If the day is warm enough, and space is available, plan serving supper on the porch, since guests will be present in many a household and some extra preparations made as a result. It is a good plan to provide a choice of hot or cold beverages with the porch meal—gingerale mixed with pineapple or grape juice is always popular, and hot tea or coffee for second choice.

SUCCESSFUL HOSTESSES LOOK AFTER THE DETAILS

Entertaining Has Been Spoiled by Wrong Guests and Dis-Chosen Food.

The success of entertaining lies in carrying out details. This is a lesson which many housewives need to learn now that overnight parties, and week-end hospitality are favorite methods of showing young folks and old folks, a good time.

A hostess has to know how to select her guests and how to plan and order her meals, even if she doesn't have to cook them, besides having to know how to make her guests comfortable.

Little things, perhaps, but carrying out the old saying of the importance of them, for surely here if anywhere it is these little things that count.

Another very important little thing is careful attention to detail.

This means not only attention to planning of the color scheme lighting, condition of the house but also to such details as the serving of hot food on hot plate and of cold food really cold, or having salads, celery, radishes and such things really crisp.

It means attention given to the flavoring and the seasoning, careful selection of the garnishings and relishes, so that they will really complement the meal.

one cup of stewed and pitted prunes. Bake 30 minutes in ho-

... BOILING AWAY COSTLY FRUIT JUICES!

Make your strawberry jam this week. Use the money saving short-boil way now followed by 4,000,000 jam and jelly makers. Saves 2½¢ on every glass. Saves ⅓ of your time. Eliminates expensive failures. No other method like it.

JELLY MAKERS: No longer need you boil away costly fruit juices! Now you can turn every last bit into luscious strawberry jam or clear, sparkling jelly! When you follow the Certo short-boil way, only 1 minute's boiling is required, and hence no fruit juice boils away in steam. You usually get 50% more glasses. Including the cost of fruit, sugar and Certo, you often save 2½ cents per glass. More than that, if you follow directions, you take no chance of failure. Your jam will come out full flavored, colorful and with a daintier texture than you've ever known before. Now please remember! Only through the use of Certo and the Certo recipes can you follow this short-boil method of jam-making. So order a bottle today. 4,000,000 women, among them many State Fair jelly champions, swear by it. Put up strawberry jam... and lots of it. Put up strawberry jelly, too. With Certo it is easy. Certo is a pure fruit product—a concentrated fruit pectin. And pectin, you know, is the substance which makes jelly "jelly." Certo is a product of General Foods Corporation. It is sold by your grocer.

Under the Certo label you will find 93 recipes. Each has been carefully worked out for use with Certo. Please remember that in making jam and jelly every fruit is different. No one recipe can be made to fit them all. That is why we developed definite scientific recipes for each fruit. These recipes are your guarantee of perfect jams and jellies with any fruit you use.

BRIDES DESIRE WELL EQUIPPED KITCHENS

They Organize This Workroom So Cooking Can Be Conveniently Done for Two.

In spite of the cynical remarks one is always hearing about the disintegration of the American home and the disappearance of the family kitchen, each June sees a large crop of new housekeepers bravely starting out.

The large percentage of them express a growing and lively interest in the furnishing of their kitchens and the preparation of meals. Other months have their quota, too, though somehow June seems particularly a bride's month. It seems fitting to give time this week to a discussion of the furnishing and equipping of the new kitchen or kitchenette, as the case may be, for June is here again with its weddings.

The kitchen is no different from any other room in the house in one respect—there are certain essentials that must be considered, when these are taken care of, accessories may be as elaborate or as simple as one wishes to make them.

A stove, a work table, a sink, a refrigerator, and certain few cooking utensils might be called the essentials. In many apartments and in rented houses the stove, sink and often the refrigerator must be taken as provided for there is little to say in the matter. When one can choose these, it is best to rely on the help of a reliable dealer. Gas and electric light companies and stores have established home service departments where trained home economics experts are ready to give advice on the selection of equipment that will best suit the needs of the purchaser and also in the use and care of it.

A kitchen cabinet is a great saver of steps, and in many up-to-date apartments or houses is built in as part of the kitchen. The best makes have ample room for the storage of kitchen utensils and the staple food supplies in common use, while the broad shelf takes the place of a separate work table and makes for greater efficiency because of the steps it saves.

There are always many questions asked as to the best kind of material to select for cooking utensils—glassware, enameled ware, aluminum etc. Each has its advantages and each will give satisfaction if used intelligently. Glass cooking ware is light and easy to handle and has the advantage of looking attractive enough for table service. It is especially good for baking. Aluminum ware is perfectly safe to use for all cooking purposes as has been proved by many scientific tests. Aluminum heats quickly, is light to handle and excellent to use for boiling, roasting, baking or frying. Agate ware and a good grade of enameled ware are also quite satisfactory.

A REAL TREAT FOR EVENING CARD PARTY

Red Devil Makes a Good Dish for a Gathering Which Includes Men.

Diets may come and go, but the "midnight snack" keeps its popularity in spite of all. According to many ideas, nothing ever tastes better than "something hot and cheesy." Red devil is a savory tangy sort of cousin to a Welsh rarebit and just the kind of a dish that will win fame for the cook. Serve it with plenty of hot coffee and a platter of cool, crisp celery and a big platter of that, as celery tastes good at such a time. Nothing else is needed, except to see that there is enough to replenish plates as they are emptied.

One further word of suggestion. See that hot plates are provided and that everything is prepared to serve the red devil as soon as it is cooked. Nothing spoils more quickly than such a dish, and nothing is more disappointing when half cold.

Recipe for Red Devil.

For four generous servings use one pound of soft American cheese, two cups tomato puree (either the canned puree, or canned tomatoes rubbed through a coarse strainer) a small can of deviled ham, mustard, tobacco sauce or Worcestershire, salt, pepper, and eight slices of toast or toasted soda crackers. The mixture may be cooked in a grill or chafing dish, or it may be a kitchen party and the guests foregather there. It is a good plan to delegate some one to attend to the toaster in any case, as the cook will probably have her hands full with stirring and mixing. Not that this dish is complicated, but it does require watching.

Cut the cheese in small pieces and mix with one teaspoon dry mustard, three drops tobacco sauce or one teaspoon Worcestershire, one teaspoon or more of salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Put the tomato puree in a saucepan and heat to the boiling point, adding a pinch (a small one) of sugar, and the ham; stir frequently to break up the ham. Mix one teaspoon cornstarch with two or three teaspoons cold water to make it smooth and stir into the tomato. When boiling again add the cheese, reduce the heat and stir constantly over a low fire until the cheese is melted and the mixture smooth and thickened.

When the cheese lumps have entirely disappeared, remove the mixture at once from the fire and pour over crisp slices of toast or toasted crackers that have been arranged on hot plates. Keep the remainder hot over warm water and cover the pan, but do not let the water boil, or the cheese may overcook.

To serve celery very crisp and tender have it washed early in the day, removing the coarse outside stalks. Split the hearts in quarters and put in a deep pan and cover with cold water. Add a thick slice of lemon to the water and put the pan in the refrigerator to become very cold. The lemon bleaches the celery a little and helps make it crisp. Before serving drain and shake to remove surplus water. Arrange on a cold plate just before serving time.

This same red devil is a pretty good dish to plan to cook over an outdoor fire too, but remember to have a little heap of dull embers for the purpose or it may cook too fast. Or a good hot stone for a stove top. It tastes marvelous with the added seasoning of fresh air.

How to Boil New Potatoes.

New potatoes should be washed, a thin ring of skin cut from the middle and then cooked in boiling salted water. When nearly tender, drain, cover with a folded napkin and let steam for five minutes over low flame or in warming oven. This gives a dry, mealy potato.

Seasonable Advice.

The slow method of cooking berries often saves the whole pan of preserves. When berries are cooked over the open flame, as they reach the thick sirup stage the preserves need careful watching so they will not burn. If much stirring is necessary the berries are broken through the preserves.

Worth Remembering.

One of the small things that will add considerably to one's reputation as a hostess is the knowledge that lemon juice adds greatly to the flavor of a cream sauce that is used for fish; that it also adds considerably to the flavor of boiled or sautéed mushrooms.

Concerning Clear Soups.

While the extractives or flavoring substances in meat have little or no food value they are excellent stimulants of digestive juices which is why a clear soup stimulates the appetite, but does practically nothing to satisfy it.

Try This for Breakfast.

Any firm, slightly tart variety of apple is delicious and rather novel when served in this way. Quarter, peel and core the apples, then cut in dice and serve with cream and a sprinkling of powdered sugar mixed with a little cinnamon.

Vegetable juices are one of the important items of diet for children between the ages of six months and three years.

MENU FOR A SIMPLE WEDDING LUNCHEON

For the June Bride Who Plans a Family Celebration of This Important Event.

The subjoined menu for a wedding breakfast to be served at home was successfully used for a wedding party of about 25 and was served on small tables, each seating four, decorated in pastel colors. Colored tablecloths, tinted glassware and a bouquet of spring flowers on each table made an effective picture. The bride's table was a little large and held the bride's cake, which was cut and distributed at the end of the luncheon party.

Menu.
Jellied Chicken with Stewed Tomatoes Mayonnaise and Almonds
Hot Biscuits or Rolls
Biscuit Tortoni
Assorted Cakes
Bon-Bons
Salted Nuts
Coffee
Ice Tea

The meal can readily be prepared at home and has been planned especially for this purpose. The jellied chicken should be made the day before it is to be served; the strawberry mixture for the cocktail may be made early in the morning; the biscuits mixed the night before if necessary and kept in the ice box overnight and until about an hour before baking. If the hostess has a large mechanical refrigerator even the biscuit tortoni may be made at home.

The bride's cake should be baked if possible at least two weeks before it will be needed. If a dark fruit type of cake is desired, the white bride's cake is baked a day or two before it is to be used. Recipes are giving for 25 servings.

Strawberry Cocktail.
(25 Servings.)

Pick over, wash and hull three quarts of large ripe strawberries. Put into a bowl and sprinkle with one cup powdered sugar, the juice of three large oranges and the grated rind of one orange. Cover and let stand until thoroughly chilled. Divide into 25 sherbet glasses, sprinkle each with a little chopped fresh mint leaves and garnish with two whole mint leaves. Serve very cold. Pastel colored gauze in various colors may be tied on the stems of the glasses if the tall stemmed ones are used.

Jellied Chicken.
(25 servings.)

This will require about three plump stewing chickens each weighing from four to five pounds. Have them cleaned, and left whole. Rinse, wash, and tie firmly. Place in a large kettle with boiling water to a half cover, and add for each chicken a small onion stuck with two or three cloves, one tablespoon salt, a sprig of parsley and a tiny piece of bayleaf. Cover closely and simmer for two hours or until very tender. Cool in the water. When cold, remove from the stock and boil down the stock to make three quarts in all. Cut the chicken in slices, discarding skin, but using both light and dark meat. Have ready 25 individual molds each about the size of a small tea cup. Rub each one on the inside with a little salad oil. Soak a package of unflavored gelatin product in three-quarters cup cold water for 10 minutes. Strain the chicken stock, skim off the fat and strain again through cheesecloth. Add the soaked gelatin and stir over a slow fire until the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Pour a thin layer in the bottom of each mold and then fill the molds three-quarters full with the chicken meat. Sprinkle very lightly with salt. Pour the liquid over the meat to fill the molds and set aside to cool. When cold, put in the icebox to chill and harden.

When ready to serve turn out on crisp lettuce, place on the same plate, two or three slices firm tomato that have been dipped in French dressing, and garnish the jellied chicken with a spoonful of stiff mayonnaise. Sprinkle this with chopped toasted almonds. Serve a hot biscuit, split and lightly buttered, on the plate with the chicken.

Hot Biscuits.
(25 servings.)

Mix and sift two quarts of flour with three teaspoons salt, five tablespoons baking powder and two teaspoons sugar. Rub in one and one-quarter cups shortening, using a firm, large fork, or a pastry chopper. When thoroughly blended add about two cups milk or water, or equal parts of each, or enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board and pat out to a scant half inch thickness. Shape with a cutter about an inch in diameter, place on greased pans and bake in a hot oven—450 degrees—for 8 minutes.

Wedding Cake.
Cream together three-quarters pound butter and three-quarter pound soft brown sugar until soft and well blended. Add six well beaten egg yolks and beat again. Then stir in one-half cup golden molasses, one cup grape juice and the juice of two oranges. Mix and sift two and one-quarter cups flour with one tablespoon cinnamon, one teaspoon mace, two teaspoons ginger and one teaspoon allspice. One teaspoon baking soda and one teaspoon salt. Mix with these three pounds of seedless raisins, one pound currants, well washed and drained, one-quarter pound chopped candied fruit, half pound candied orange and lemon peel, one-half pound shredded citron and one-half pound shredded blanched almonds. Stir this into the liquid mixture and add the egg whites beaten until foamy. Mix thoroughly and pour into a large round pan lined with buttered brown or heavy white paper. Bake in a slow oven—250 degrees—for 3 to 4 hours. It is a good plan to keep a small pan of water in the oven during the baking to keep the cake moist.

Seasonal Breakfast Fruit.
Slice fresh pineapple a little while before it is to be used, remove the core with a small cutter and sprinkle the slices with powdered sugar. If possible garnish with a few fresh mint leaves and they will have a increased appetizing appeal.

EXTENSION DISHES MAKE FOR ECONOMY

This Type of Dish Always Serves Chicken to the Best Advantage.

Chicken dinners are and probably always will be the accepted company or guest treat. In these days of economical household management, the housewife plans to make the chicken go as far as possible, an object which she accomplishes by serving combination dishes in which vegetables, rice, spaghetti or pasta extend the fowl. These combination dishes are commonly referred to as extension dishes.

When such dishes are prepared the cost per serving is no greater than that of some other meats and the guest has the pleasure of enjoying a special treat, for chicken always is a treat. Moreover, for most of the combination dishes the housewife can buy stewing chickens, which are usually less expensive than other types, though their flavor is often superior.

One combination dish that is always popular is chicken chow mein.

Kraft-Phenix Menu-ettes

QUICK TURNS TO DISTINCTIVE MENUS.....BY MARYE DAHNKE

A little investigation of cheese will reward you with dozens of brand new and delicious dishes. Cheese itself is so versatile! And Kraft-Phenix offer you so many fine flavored varieties. Here's just a hint of what you can do with the rich Kraft cheeses that melt perfectly... and some of the cool, creamy cheeses that spread like butter. Begin your little cheese investigation today... with these recipes for a starter!

For prune salad— Kraft Pimento Cream Spread

Here's an easy-to-get salad. Stuff large stewed prunes with Kraft Pimento Cream Spread. Serve three or four prunes on each lettuce leaf with Kraft Mayonnaise. Kraft Pimento Cream Spread, with its slivers of snappy pimento, makes a grand sandwich filling, too. Always keep a jar handy.

It makes snappy salad and sandwiches

Try this Spinach Souffle made with Velveeta

This is one of the best summer luncheon dishes I know. Over a slow fire heat  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of milk, 2 tablespoons of melted butter, seasonings, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  package of Kraft Velveeta cut in small pieces. Add the yolks of 3 eggs, 2 cups of chopped, cooked spinach, and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a buttered baking dish and cover the top with the rest of the Velveeta cut in very thin pieces. Place the dish in a pan of water and bake. Garnish the souffle with strips of crisp bacon. I know you'll love to cook with Velveeta. It melts so perfectly, and gives such a delicious cheese flavor to cooked dishes.

Onions in a golden cheese sauce!

If your family likes onions, this dish will get loud and long applause. Peel about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  pounds of medium sized onions. Cook in salted water until tender. Drain, and add  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound of Kraft American Cheese (pressed through a sieve). Stir over a slow fire until the cheese has melted to a smooth sauce. Kraft American melts perfectly. And its marvelous "cave cured" flavor is actually enhanced by cooking.

You'll love its rich "cave cured" flavor

Something new for sardine sandwiches

This is a three decker. Cut two slices of white bread and one of whole wheat. On one of the white slices spread Kraft Mayonnaise, sliced hard cooked eggs and sardines boned, chopped and mixed with a little lemon juice. Then spread the whole wheat slice generously with "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese seasoned with paprika, salt and pepper, and place it on the first white slice. Top with the third buttered slice. The delicate flavor of "Philadelphia" Brand blends deliciously with the sardine and egg mixture.

Pure... nutritious... wholesome

SUGGESTIONS FOR MULTIPLE USES OF POPULAR RICE

This Nutritious Article of Food Is of Two Varieties, White and Brown.

Rice is a food with many uses. Although it is classed with the cereals, it can be used in all parts of the meal, from soup to dessert, even including bread.

with meat, combined with vegetables, with cheese, with meat or fish as a main or salad course, in puddings and cold desserts—these are some of the ways of using this valuable food, and the wise and canny housekeeper knows how to make the most of them.

When the family tires of potatoes, or better as a means of warding off this calamity, rice has many possibilities. Because it is rich in starch it can be used to supplement protein foods and is a good energy food.

It may be bought polished or unpolished, or as white or brown rice. The white rice is more popular, but brown rice is more nutritious as it contains the outside layers of the rice grain and a larger percentage of fat.

A few pieces of dried yellow kind of an orange kept in the tea canister will give tea a delicious fragrance and flavor.

FRESH PINEAPPLE IN FAMILY MENUS

This Fruit's Delicious Aroma Is Only One of Its Many Attractive Features.

At this time of the year, pineapple is one of our most delicious and inexpensive fruits. The season for this tropical fruit generally extends from late May until mid-June. The season is at its peak now, and this year the fruit is extremely fine in quality and excellent in flavor.

Unfortunately, the average American housewife objects to preparing a fresh pineapple for the table. One of the popular ways of peeling the fruit is to cut the pineapple into crosswise slices and then remove the rind or peel from each slice.

Another method, preferred by many chefs, is to first remove the core at the base of the fruit with a paring knife. This accomplished, proceed to remove each individual cone by itself. An apple corer or a fork may be used. Then the cones may be readily peeled.

Aids Digestion. Pineapple is said to aid digestion. It contains an enzyme known as vegetable pepsin, which digests albuminous substances. This, perhaps, accounts for the comfortable feeling enjoyed after eating fresh pineapple. This enzyme is found only in fresh pineapple.

The action of this digestive principle also explains why the fresh fruit is not successfully combined with milk, eggs or gelatin. The unpleasant bitter taste resulting when fresh pineapple is combined with milk or eggs is well known. Just as soon as pineapple is blended with these foods their albumens are digested as they are in the stomach. If fresh pineapple is added to a gelatin mixture the product refuses to gelatinize. The influence of the enzyme on gelatin is the cause of this loss of jelling power. Cooked pineapple can be used with any of these foods most satisfactorily.

One of the most appealing ways of serving fresh pineapple is in its raw state. The choice pieces of the fruit may be served "au naturel" as a breakfast fruit; it is delicious as a dessert for luncheon and when offered as a cocktail for the first course of the family dinner, those around the board will regret it is impolite not to ask for a second helping. For all these services, the fruit may be sugared several hours before serving and allowed to draw its own juice. In any case of these services it may be combined with fresh strawberries to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

A simple pineapple dessert is made with one egg white, two tablespoons powdered sugar, one-half teaspoon lemon juice, one-half cup cream and one-third cup finely chopped pineapple. Beat the white of the egg until it is stiff but not dry. Add the powdered sugar and lemon juice. Whip the cream, fold it into this and lastly fold in the crushed pineapple, which has been thoroughly drained. Just before serving garnish with colored grapes or cherries and serve very cold.

Another pineapple dish which may be used either as a salad or dessert can be made by cutting slices of pineapple about an inch and a half thick. The pineapple is removed from the outer ring and combined with strawberries and whipped cream. Then the outer rings are refilled. The rings should be placed on a small plate partly covered with a paper doily before filling, the doily being larger than the pineapple ring. A salad can be prepared in the same way.

The finely chopped fresh pineapple may be served as a sauce for ice cream or with cake or pudding. Pineapple puff balls are a dainty to serve with pineapple salad.

Within the past few years jellied salad and pineapple salad has found a new life in popular fruit salads.

Golden Glow Salad. One package lemon gelatin product, one cup pineapple liquid, one-third cup grated raw carrots and one-third cup grated pineapple. Bring the fresh pineapple juice and pulp to boiling point. Make a lemon flavored jelly using a cup of the liquid poured from the pineapple. Allow this to thicken and then add the carrots and the pineapple. Pour into a mold and become firm. Cut in fancy shapes, using sandwich or cookie cutters and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Fresh Pineapple Pie. Pineapple is a pastry de luxe. To make it, use three tablespoons flour, one cup sugar, three tablespoons cornstarch, one and one-fourth cups boiling water, one-half cup pineapple juice, two eggs yolks, one-half lemon and one-half cup grated pineapple.

Mix the flour, cornstarch and the sugar, add the pineapple and pineapple juice; bring this to the boiling point. Cook in a double boiler till the mixture is clear—it will take from 30 to 40 minutes. Four over the beaten egg yolks slowly, return to the double boiler, add lemon juice and pineapple and cook until the yolks thicken. This should be stirred nearly all the time it is cooking. When cooled, pour into the baked crust and cover with meringue and brown in a hot oven.

SUGGESTIONS FOR MULTIPLE USES OF POPULAR RICE

This Nutritious Article of Food Is of Two Varieties, White and Brown.

Rice is a food with many uses. Although it is classed with the cereals, it can be used in all parts of the meal, from soup to dessert, even including bread.

Rice muffins, rice waffles or pancakes, rice in soups, as a vegetable with meat, combined with vegetables, with cheese, with meat or fish as a main or salad course, in puddings and cold desserts—these are some of the ways of using this valuable food, and the wise and canny housekeeper knows how to make the most of them.

When the family tires of potatoes, or better as a means of warding off this calamity, rice has many possibilities. Because it is rich in starch it can be used to supplement protein foods and is a good energy food.

It may be bought polished or unpolished, or as white or brown rice. The white rice is more popular, but brown rice is more nutritious as it contains the outside layers of the rice grain and a larger percentage of fat.

A few pieces of dried yellow rind of an orange kept in the tea can later will give tea a delicious fragrance and flavor.

FRESH PINEAPPLE IN FAMILY MENUS

At this time of the year, pineapple is one of our most delicious and inexpensive fruits. The season for this tropical fruit generally extends from late May until mid-June. The season is at its peak now, and this year the fruit is extremely fine in quality and excellent in flavor.

Unfortunately, the average American housewife objects to preparing a fresh pineapple for the table. One of the popular ways of peeling the fruit is to cut the pineapple into crosswise slices and then remove the rind or peel from each slice.

Another method, preferred by many chefs, is to first remove the core at the base of the fruit with a paring knife. This accomplished, proceed to remove each individual cone by itself. An apple corer or a fork may be used. Then the cones may be readily peeled.

Aids Digestion.

Pineapple is said to aid digestion. It contains an enzyme known as vegetable peptin, which digests albuminous substances. This, perhaps, accounts for the comfortable feeling enjoyed after eating fresh pineapple. This enzyme is found only in fresh pineapple.

The action of this digestive principle also explains why the fresh fruit is not successfully combined with milk, eggs or gelatin. The unpleasant bitter taste resulting when fresh pineapple is combined with milk or eggs is well known. Just as soon as pineapple is blended with these foods their albumens are digested as they are in the stomach. If fresh pineapple is added to a gelatin mixture the product refuses to gelatinize. The influence of the enzyme on gelatin is the cause of this loss of jellifying power. Cooked pineapple can be used with any of these foods most satisfactorily.

One pound of pineapple, which is about four slices one inch thick, contains 200 calories, of which eight are protein, twelve are fat and 180 are carbohydrates. Pineapple is a good source of vitamins A, B and C.

One of the most appealing ways of serving fresh pineapple is in its raw state. The choice pieces of the fruit may be served "au naturel" as a breakfast fruit; it is delicious as a dessert for luncheon and when offered as a cocktail for the first course of the family dinner, those around the board will regret it is impossible not to ask for a second helping. For all these services, the fruit may be sugared several hours before serving and allowed to draw its own juice. In any case of these services it may be combined with fresh strawberries to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

A simple pineapple dessert is made with one egg white, two tablespoons powdered sugar, one-half teaspoon lemon juice, one-half cup cream and one-third cup finely chopped pineapple. Beat the white of the egg until it is stiff but not dry. Add the powdered sugar and lemon juice. Whip the cream, fold it in and lastly fold in the crushed pineapple, which has been thoroughly drained. Just before serving garnish with colored grapes or cherries and serve very cold.

Another pineapple dish which may be used either as a salad or dessert can be made by cutting slices of pineapple about an inch and a half thick. The pineapple is removed from the outer ring and combined with strawberries and whipped cream. Then the outer rings are refilled. The rings should be placed on a small plate before filling, the dolly being larger than the pineapple ring. A salad can be prepared in the same way.

The finely chopped fresh pineapple may be served as a salad for ice cream or with cake or pudding. Pineapple puff balls are dainty to serve with pineapple sauce.

Within the past few years jellied carrot and pineapple salad has forged ahead in popularity until now this dish leads in popular fruit salads.

Golden Glow Salad.

One package lemon gelatin product, one cup pineapple liquid, and one-third cup grated raw carrots and one-third cup of pineapple juice and pulp to boiling point.

Make a lemon flavored jelly using a cup of the liquid poured from the pineapple. Allow this to thicken and then add the carrots and the pineapple. Pour over the mold wet with cold water and allow it to become firm. Cut in fancy shapes, using sandwich or cookie cutters, and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Pineapple Pie.

Pine apple pie is a pastry de luxe. To make it, use three tablespoons flour, one cup sugar, three tablespoons cornstarch, one and one-fourth cups boiling water, one-half cup pineapple juice, two egg yolks, one-half lemon and one-half cup grated pineapple.

Mix the flour, cornstarch and the sugar, add the boiling water and pineapple juice; bring this to the boiling point. Cook in a double boiler till the mixture is clear. Pour over the beaten egg yolks slowly, return to the double boiler, add lemon juice and grated pineapple and cook until the yolks thicken. This should be stirred nearly all the time it is cooking.

When cooled, pour into the baked crust and cover with meringue and brown in a hot oven.

KANSAS U. HEAD DEFENDS DEAN CRITICISED BY JUDGE

Jurist, Sentencing Students on Liquor Charge, Had Blamed Educator.

By the Associated Press.
OLATHE, Kan., June 5.—University of Kansas executives and law enforcement officials at Lawrence, site of the school, defend Henry Werner, dean of men, accused of not safeguarding students from temptations to violate liquor laws.

Judge G. A. Roberts, in sentencing two Kansas City students, E. M. Tate and George Tooley, to six months in jail here yesterday, declared Dean Werner was at fault. Tate and Tooley also were fined $300 each.

Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the university praised Dean Werner as "most efficient." County Attorney Frazee said "Werner always has been ready to aid me officially and has done so on many an occasion."

Dean Werner, while explaining he was not a policeman, said he seized on every occasion to discourage student drinking.

Prof. G. Oscar Russell of Ohio State U. Demonstrates Picture Taken of His Own Larynx in Motion.

Members of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society and of the Society of Progressive Oral Advocates yesterday witnessed a motion picture of the interior of the human larynx, co-ordinated with a sound record of the voice produced by that organ.

The picture was shown at Central Institute for the Deaf, where the societies held a joint session as part of their "research day."

The morning session consisted of a varied group of intimate demonstrations and specialized talks at Oscar Johnson Institute and Millan Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

ST. LOUIS, FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1931

PAGES 1-4E.

State University showed the moving pictures, which were of his own larynx. Others have made movies of the larynx, but it was said that Russell's were longer and more satisfactory than earlier attempts, and the co-ordination with sound was unique. An amplifying device was used to project the sound from a phonograph record, producing a realistic effect.

The photograph had been done with the aid of an autolaryngoscope perfected by Russell. This is a curving, tube-like device with reflecting prisms, capable of introduction into the larynx without discomfort to the subject or interference with his voice. In the course of his studies, Russell has delved into the larynxes of opera singers and many other persons.

View of Vocal Chords.

To witness such a picture for the first time was akin to seeing a travelogue of a new world. At first glance, the screen might have been thought to be showing a deep view of the throat as seen through the mouth, with the upper lip projecting across the top. This was deceptive, for the view was down in the larynx and that "lip" in reality was the epiglottis or lid of the larynx. Back of this, forming a vertical fold, were the vocal chords. In speech, these chords opened and closed in varying movements, the size of the opening changing with the pitch of the voice.

It was possible to read the movements of the vocal chords and epiglottis just as one reads lips. Russell used only one record of sound co-ordination, showing the remainder of the picture without sound. Sometimes he used his voice spontaneously to give the sound his larynx was shown forming on the screen. He did this, for instance, with phrases of the song, "A Perfect Day," which his larynx was performing on the screen. The watchers saw the vocal chords open and shut with the rise and fall of the music.

The same amplifying device was employed to project a phonograph record of the pseudo-voice of a man without a larynx. This man was a patient of Dr. W. Wallace Morrison of New York, who had read a thesis on the production of speech without the larynx before the throat, nose and ear specialists' meeting on Wednesday. The patient's voice came from the disc in clear, strong and well modulated tones. He said, "I find my voice easily understood by those with whom I work and even over the telephone." He was using his esophagus and other organs to make up for the loss of his larynx.

Cancer of Larynx Common. Cancer of the larynx is fairly common and an increasing number of victims are having the larynx removed to arrest it. Dr. Philip Romonek of Omaha, Neb., brought to the meeting a patient whose larynx he had removed last June and who also was employing the esophagus as a substitute. The voice of this man, a 61-year-old salesman, was more monotonous, less finished, than the other one, but quite intelligible. He had to gulp noticeably to take in air for his pseudo-voice, but he conversed with ease and said he could use the telephone.

Dr. E. Lee Myers of St. Louis brought another patient, a man now engaged as a window washer at City Hospital, whose larynx was removed and who prefers to use an artificial device for speaking. This man spoke distinctly in good tones, though his voice was rather high and "tinny." He carried his artificial larynx in a leather pouch slung under his shoulder and held a mouthpiece when he spoke, after inserting a tube from it into an opening in his throat which connects with the end of the trachea. Dr. Myers said the instrument could be disguised, if desired, to resemble a pipe.

In connection with a demonstration of the notable work of training deaf children to speak correctly at Central Institute for the Deaf, Dr. Max A. Goldstein remarked that it had been found deaf children were hearing conversation due to their stimulated mental appreciation of sound, although there was no physiological change in the organs of hearing. Dr. Goldstein is founder and director of the institute, retiring president of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society and president of the Society of Progressive Oral Advocates.

Good Accents of Deaf. He remarked also about the incomprehensible acquisition of accents by pupils graduating from the institute, who had been quite deaf and who, in learning to speak, had learned good English. One such girl was present. She comes from a Yiddish home and she has a Yiddish accent. The doctor told of another girl who had taken on a rich Southern drawl upon returning to her home in the South.

One of the demonstrations showed how totally deaf children were being taught to understand sounds through the sense to touch, by shutting their eyes and feeling the teacher's cheeks and throat or even a drum of paper across the end of a megaphone in the teacher's hands. This is a field of experiment still, with the hope of making touch as well as sight substitute for hearing. A number of laboratory demonstrations also were given at Central Institute.

The American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society closed its thirty-seventh annual meeting at the Coronado Hotel this morning with a group of papers at a scientific meeting, after holding its election.

York was chosen president, succeeding Dr. Goldstein. Vice-presidents elected were: Dr. Lee M. Hurd of New York, eastern section; Dr. Calhoun McDougall of Atlanta, southern; Dr. Alvin J. Lorie of Kansas City, midwestern; Dr. Austin A. Hayden of Chicago, middle; and Dr. Harold A. Fletcher of San Francisco, western. Dr. Robert L. Loughran of New York, secretary; Dr. Ewing W. Day of Provincetown, Mass., treasurer, and Dr. George L. Richards of Fall River, Mass., editor of the Transactions, were re-elected.

The officers were chosen by the council, of which they are members. The other council members elected by the society were: Dr.

Joseph C. Beck of Chicago, Dr. Perry G. Goldsmith of Toronto, Dr. Goldstein, Dr. William H. Haskin of New York, Dr. Hill Hastings of Los Angeles, Dr. D. C. Jarvis of Barre, Vt.; Dr. J. W. Jervey of Greenville, S. C.; Dr. Harold I. Lillie of Rochester, Minn., and Dr. W. P. Wherry of Omaha. Drs. Haskin, Hastings, Jarvis, Jervey and Wherry were re-elected. The Society of Progressive Oral Advocates is meeting today and tomorrow at Central Institute for demonstrations and scientific papers.

FOR CHILDREN
By Mary Graham Bonner

A Mile Up.
"HURRY, hurry, hurry," cried the Little Black Clock as John and Peggy met him at the end of the magic path. "You've turned the time forward!" John exclaimed. "We all know you've done that when you tell us to hurry, hurry, hurry."
"You're right," the Little Black Clock answered. "Yes, I have used my magic this evening to turn the time forward."
They took a turn down the magic path which led toward a very big city with buildings taller than any either of the children had ever seen.
"In these days they're building them higher than ever," the Clock said. "We're going to visit some children who live on one of the top floors."
They got into an express elevator and visited an apartment so far up in the air they could see clouds trailing by the windows.
There were some children playing, and evidently marvels and wonders were so usual that they did not seem surprised to see a little clock walking in the door.
"A clock with magic—and bringing with him the two children."
"Hello," they said. "Do you live more than two miles up? We've heard they're going to build an apartment house that tall."
"Land is so valuable and there is so little land that the only thing to do is to make the buildings higher," said one of the boys.
"We don't live so high up," said another. "We're only a mile from the ground."
"A mile from the ground?" John whispered to the clock. But they said no more. They listened to the others as they talked.
A Convenient Size.
One housewife bought a half dozen enameled doll's dishes and uses them for leftovers in her refrigerator. They cannot be broken and fit very nicely in the odd corners of the icebox.

FAITH BALDWIN
Who wrote 'The Office Wife'

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE.
JULIE came in. She had been lunching and playing golf with the Barrett girls, and she threw herself down in a chair with an expression of utter fatigue and reached idly for one of Hildreth's cigarettes. Hildreth said, watching her:
"For a person who never smoked until two months ago, you are certainly eating them up."
"I've acquired the taste," Julie told her.
She was restless. Her cropped hair was cut short and pulled in a deep wave over her forehead. High on her tanned, smooth cheeks, brilliant and rather unnecessary rouge was brushed, and her lovely mouth was unnaturally scarlet. Her eyes looked tired and discontented.
"How was your game?"
"Rotten. I had only three hours!"
Presently she stretched and yawned. "Anyone coming in for tea?"
"No—Pat, of course. He came on the noon train."
"That's good. Bridge tonight? I want to show him my game has improved."
Julie rose abruptly. Her back was to Hildreth. Her voice, when she answered, was light and completely controlled.
"That's—like," she said.
When she was alone in her own room, she flung off her clothes and drew her hair. Helma drew her hair, and Julie stepped in and lay in the deep tub, her arms immersed in the hot, scented water.
Bruce had said nothing, but he had not intimated that she wished to see him. Some day, she thought, he would come. Well, he said find her all right.
HILDRETH thought that alteration had been it. It was natural enough, since she had made up her mind, once she had seen the way, she had gone through with it, swiftly, thoroughly as only youth, resilient and adaptable youth, can go. The first evening, the first cocktail, the first lowering of eyelids, the first provocative remark—they'd each been a separate, conscious effort, hard enough. But were so no longer. She had plenty of examples upon which to model herself—the Barrett girls, who were considered the expert and most daring of the younger crowd. Hildreth herself for her coolness—and always well, now that she danced like a wind, stayed up all night, played cards for stakes, painted and rouged and smoked and drank now that she was learning to give men an easy opening, now that she had permitted Pat Jordan to kiss her expertly—and had told herself that she enjoyed it, that in a way she had, the excitement, the technique of it—now that she had learned to rebuff further advances. No more, thank you, that was by way of an argument. It spoils a pleasure to treat it—would Bruce find her any more worth while—more like a sort of woman he had loved, perhaps still loved? She considered traces that in a way she was Naïda's superior. For if Naïda's money added to her attractiveness, Julie could compete here. And Naïda had been married.
Julie had learned to listen to friends and double entendre, and to open indelicacy. She had learned that "woman's virtue is a fine invention of man." She had learned that, despite all evidence to the contrary, virginity retains its charm. Sophistication of mind and innocence. That was what she wanted.
Was it what Bruce had wanted? How dull he must have found the backwoods girl with her honesty and her prudishness and her withdrawal. After a woman like Naïda Trevor!
Julie had not wavered from her original condemnation of Naïda's treachery to Bruce. But if she could still care for her, still endeavor to see her after that night, she must be, argued the possession of more than ordinary fascination. It was that fascination Julie had tried, in her ignorance, to analyze and imitate. And Pat Jordan, watching the situation, smiled secretly to himself.
Julie pulled herself out of her bath with reluctance. She liked the look of water on her limbs. She was relaxed and drowsy and yet with a hidden, almost sickening excitement. She would see him again—soon.
She went back into her room and dressed and went down for a moment. The hanging over, said, "I don't want brass bands to herald my arrival."
Julie replied, and smiled, "Not after all, you're a woman."
"Then coming hard?"
"Too late," he looked hurt.
She tried to come out on a paragraph. The Barrett girls are having a good one. Hildreth

WHY WOMEN FAIL IN PRACTICAL POLITICS

NEW YORK, June 4.
THE trouble with women in politics is that they want too much. They don't go into politics disinterestedly; they expect an immediate reward for themselves for any service. They are entirely too personal in all their political activities.

"That, at least, is the opinion of Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, long known as one of the righthand 'men' of former presidential candidate Alfred E. Smith, and whose political sagacity has earned her the respect and deference of all politically active men and women who have come in contact with her."
"Perhaps," said Mrs. Moskowitz, "I should modify that statement to say that not enough women in politics are as yet disinterested workers, because some of them are quite impersonal, at least as impersonal as men in politics, and interested in this unique career for the sake of the career itself. Also, there is no real reason why in the near future women cannot make themselves just as fit for political life as men."

"It is hard to make general statements on this subject, because there are all kinds of women just as there are all kinds of men. Nevertheless, it is true that there are certain typically feminine factors which militate against the upward progress of political women as opposed to political men."

"Of course the women in this country have had the political door thrown open to them for only 12 years, starting with 1919 when the women's suffrage amendment was passed. Twelve years is too short a time for a great social change of this kind to take full effect. And in that time a great number of women have made great strides. There have been failures, some of them tragic failures, but for every failure there have been a dozen successes, less publicized, but there nevertheless."

"What has been the hindrance back—and it is obvious that something is holding them back from even greater advances than they have achieved—is both the antagonism of men and certain feminine characteristics which are still true of women in general."

"MALE politicians are still very reticent with their feminine colleagues. They pretend to take the women into their confidence, but they seldom do. The women are forced to be content to be left out of the inner workings of the organization, and

Yet he was determined not to betray himself. He would not let her see, by word or sign, that he knew her for altered or estranged. After his own sense of blasting disappointment and hurt he was conscious only of pity for her. He thought, as he had thought upon the night he met her, but for different reasons, "poor child! Poor child, to believe that the quest for happiness lay down such devious and twisting paths!"

They Expect Immediate Rewards and Are Too Personal in Viewpoint, Says Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, Who Is a Keen Student of the Political Game.

to be satisfied with the more superficial aspects of its policy. It is seldom that their advice is asked on questions of importance, and even rarer that their advice is followed. Quite often they are even kept totally in the dark as to the true aims of the work they are assigned to do. This male antagonism usually results in keeping the women party workers doing the tasks that no one else wants to do, like the detailed work of a district organizer.

"Very often this antagonism is caused by the attitude of the women themselves. In her eagerness to reap personal glory or some other reward from politics, the woman becomes over-aggressive and too obviously inclined to use whatever position she is given for her own advancement. Naturally men resent this. They would resent it in a man. In a woman it is even worse."

"In addition to being too interested in self aggrandizement, women in politics are usually too petty and too personal. They fail to grasp the broad viewpoint that a true statesman needs, and therefore are forced by this one limitation to remain in the lower ranks. They concentrate too much upon the petty details. When I say that they are too personal I mean that their political thinking is concerned with individuals whom they like or dislike rather than with ideas which they consider sound or unsound. A really great politician has to be able to align himself on the side of an idea, a motive—a cause, you might call it—regardless of his personal feeling for the individuals involved. Unless they get over this failing—which, as I said, is still true of women in general, although not of all women without exception—our women politicians will never reach the top."

MRS. MOSKOWITZ, who now heads a large publicity organization, has had greater opportunity than most women to analyze the place of the sex in politics. She was placed in charge of the women's division of the Citizens' Committee seeking to elect Al Smith Governor in 1918, and served on his Reconstruction Commission after the successful campaign. Although she has never held any other party or political posts, this has been her own choosing, because it is at least partly due to the political ability of Mrs. Moskowitz that Gov. Smith so favors women in politics.

"Mrs. Moskowitz thinks that politics is not a particularly easy career for women, but this is true, she thinks, of almost all careers. 'Women find it hard in any profession,' she says, 'unless the profession has a special feminine appeal, like those that have to do with clothes and the person. It doesn't matter whether they try law, or medicine, or business or

Home Care for Sallow Skin

SALLOW or blemished skin is usually safe and effective. Use the following preparation daily, until the condition is improved.

First cleanse the face thoroughly; then spread a paste made from almond meal and buttermilk over the face and neck and allow to dry. If the skin is unusually sallow and blemished, keep moist for a half hour before you finally allow it to dry.

Wash the mask off with warm water, and apply as much rich cream as can be absorbed by the skin. It is better to use this treatment before going to bed, so you can mold a lot of the cream into the face, patting and slapping to bring up the circulation, and leave the excess on overnight.

If you have blemishes in addition to the sallow skin, try applying hot compresses. Any foreign matter can then be squeezed out gently with the fingers covered with absorbent cotton. Follow by an application of pure alcohol, peroxide or a solution of boracic acid. Unless this precaution is taken, infection is liable to follow. Use the same method for plucking the brows or removing stray hairs from any part of the face. The skin will be sufficiently softened to make the operation less painful, and going over the area with an antiseptic will insure you against infection.

A speedy and effective way of ridding yourself of blackheads is the use of soap. I do not recommend it, however, unless your skin is thick and rough. First cleanse the skin and rinse, then massage a thick lather into the skin with a rough wash cloth or complexion brush. Let it dry before rinsing off. Repeat the process then rinse thoroughly first with warm water, then cold. Pat dry with a soft towel and apply a thick film of cold cream or a soothing skin lotion. The skin will be pink and glowing.

Do not apply your cosmetics for at least two hours. Use this treatment every other day until every blackhead has vanished. Keep it clear and healthy thereafter by proper cleansing and protection.

anything else; they are always about it: women have a certain faced with the same handicaps, sixth sense which is a definite help in politics. What I have said about politics to them in their dealings with applies just as well to other lines. It is particularly valuable in politics. Women are enabled to understand people instinctively, to sense what is in their minds, without waiting for words and action to reveal the secret. You can see Mrs. Moskowitz, "sounds like what this means to a politician, a foolish word to use in this case, whose whole career depends upon action, but intuition is just what his or her relations with other persons have. There is no doubt about it."

NEVERTHELESS women, as Mrs. Moskowitz, "sounds like what this means to a politician, a foolish word to use in this case, whose whole career depends upon action, but intuition is just what his or her relations with other persons have. There is no doubt about it."

Pneumothorax.

IN certain conditions of tuberculosis of the lungs, the injection of a gas or filtered air into the space between the chest wall and the lung, for the purpose of causing the lung to collapse and hence to remain at rest, is a valued mode of treatment.

There are many conditions, however, which make the use of pneumothorax—as this treatment is called—difficult or impossible.

In tuberculosis, because of the inflammation of the pleura, adhesions frequently form between the covering of the lung and the inner lining of the chest wall.

When such adhesions form, it is not possible to secure a complete collapse of the affected lung.

Hence, the presence of adhesions may make it impossible to administer pneumothorax, or may allow of only a partial collapse of the free (that is, nonadherent) portion of the lung.

The collapse of one lung necessarily throws the burden of respiration on the other lung. Before, therefore, pneumothorax is attempted, a careful X-ray study is made of the chest to determine whether the disease is one-sided and whether it is safe to burden the other lung.

There are other factors which the physicians must consider before administering the pneumothorax treatment. Certain forms of lung tuberculosis, and the presence of tuberculosis in other parts of the body, such as for example in the larynx, kidneys and intestines, may make the administration of pneumothorax inadvisable.

In each case, however, the ultimate decision as to whether or not the patient can benefit by pneumothorax treatment must be determined by the physician who has a first-hand knowledge of the case and who has made a careful study of it.

When pneumothorax cannot be given, and the patient requires surgical treatment for his tuberculosis of the lungs, there are other forms of surgery available.

593 Policewomen In U. S. Are Half Of World's Total

By George Storm

THE United States, with 593, has approximately one-half the women police in the world, says a report to the League of Nations. Policewomen have proved their worth and now are definitely established in the police work of the world, the report declares. Their most useful services are detection of crime, social welfare and protection of women and children. The chief countries employing women police are: United States, 593; Germany, 159; Great Britain, 150; Poland, 57; Holland, 33; Denmark, 7, and Switzerland, 4.

THIEVES ESCAPE IN AUTOMOBILE

Enter, Take Money and Get Away Before Workers in Plant at Rear Are Aware of Raid.

A $1400 payroll was stolen today by the Metropolitan Cleaning Co., 1710 North Garrison avenue, by two armed robbers, who fled in an automobile.

The men, described as youthful and poorly dressed, entered the office at 12:30 p. m., pointing revolvers at Herbert Schemme, vice-president, two customers, and a bookkeeper.

"Show us where the money is and no one will get hurt," one robber ordered.

The bookkeeper directed the men to an open safe. They took the currency and ran to their machine and drove away.

Several employees in the plant to the rear of the offices were not aware of the holdup until after the robbers had gone.

The loss is insured. Schemme said.

Officers said two miners on their way to work at the Francis mine near Burgettstown were attacked by members of a group of 500 persons and tear gas was used to disperse the crowd.

One man was in a hospital at New Kensington as a result of an attack on a truck load of men on their way to the Kinloch mine of the Valley Camp Coal Co. The driver told State police he was taking nine men to the mine when the machine was forced off the road.
